SWING IS UNQUESTIONABLY TOWARD WILSON IN RACE NOW PRACTICALLY TIED, SAYS NEW YORK HERALD TODAY

Huge Start Which Hughes Had in First Installment of Political Poll on September 24 Has Been Overcome by the President, Who is in Lead Except for Admittedly Disproportionate Poll in Republican Stronghold of California.

HUGHES IS LOSING, MUCH WEAKER THAN HIS PARTY; WILSON GAINING, MUCH STRONGER THAN HIS PARTY

The Former Receding and the Latter Advancing in Percentage of Total Vote Cast From Week to Week in Great Anti-Wilson Paper's Canvass—States Ordinarily Republican Are Being Found to be More Than in Doubt.

New York, Oct. 21. — The fifth installment of the New York Herald's political poll shows that the drift is towards President Wilson in a practically tied race. Mr. Hughes' plurality is 3,727 out of a grand total of 146,064 straw votes taken by the New York Herald in 36 states.

The Herald summarizes the situation as follows:

(Copyright 1916 by New York Herald Company. All Rights Reserved.)

With election day just fifteen days off, the presidential tide is drifting towards President Wilson.

Mr. Hughes has made slight gains in states which are normally Republican, but which are this year in doubt.

The President has made gains in states which are ordinarily Republican, but which this year are not only in doubt, but are likely to decide the election.

The states in which Mr. Hughes, in the Herald's straw votes, has made gains are New York (up state), Connecticut, Idaho, Massachusetts, Montana, South Dakota and New Jersey.

The states where the President has made gains are Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

HUGHES LOSING; WILSON GAINING

As was first noted in the Herald on September 24, it is a neck and neck race for the presidency. Mr. Hughes has had the lead because of the normal strength of the Republican party and the amalgamation of the Progressives with the Republicans. But he has been losing. He is much weaker than his party. President Wilson has been gaining. He is much stronger than his party. The two are now practically tied for the lead.

Using as a basis the old time strength of the Republican party and the comparative vote of Messrs. Taft and Roosevelt, with that of Mr. Wilson, it was necessary at the outset of canvass for the Democrats to make huge gains to give them what would approximate an even start with their political rivals. But they have, from all that appears on the straw vote, made these gains and are now on what amounts to an even footing with the Republicans.

Out of a total of 146,064 straw votes taken in 36 states, Mr. Hughes has a plurality of 3,777. Last week out of a total of 107,403, he had a plurality of 4,926.

COMPUTATION HARDLY FAIR.

In this Grand total, however, there are incorporated 18,806 votes from California. This is out of proportion to the rest of the country. California is, from all indications now discernable, the one Republican stronghold which is holding true to its standards. Therefore, it would be hardly a fair computation to include so large a group of votes from there, any more than it would to include the same number from a state like Tennessee or North Carolina, which are just as strongly Democratic.

If the vote of California were cut down two-thirds, which would make it commensurate with the rest of the states, the closeness of the contest as revealed by the total straw vote, would be more apparent.

WILSON REALLY IN THE LEAD.

For instance, if just one-third of the 18,806 votes were included, the total tabulation would show a majority of 355 for the President. Inasmuch as a very large proportion of the test ballots are necessarily gathered in what are presumably Republican states, it is only fair that attention should be called to the California situation.

Never in the memory of politicians of today has there been a contest which approached the present one for closeness. It is like a yacht race where an extra puff of wind—or just a zephyr—on the closing reach may drive one across the finish line first. Labor is overwhelmingly for the President. Business is almost a unit for the Republicans. The great middle class—small merchants, Clerks, brain workers generally—is divided, and it is next to impossible to ascertain how it stands. The indications obtained in The Herald's polls to date show that these men are inclined to favor the Republicans. They and the "silent" vote, which is more numerous this year than ever before, will decide the election.

AMONG RAILROAD PEOPLE.

There are indications in several parts of the country that branches of the railway industry are turning away from the President on the theory that they are being deluded by the Adamson law. The Republicans are conducting a most vigorous campaign to convince the railway workers that this is true. They are making progress in some places, but in others the railway employes, operatives and others are almost a unit for the Democracy.

The Republicans say that the almost sensational drift of wage earners to the Democracy in the last month has reached its highest point and that the swing back has begun and will continue till election day. It is considered by the Republicans that unless there is a swing back there is some justification for Republican gloom.

In addition to the labor drift to the Democrats, there is in all the Republican states a small but steady drift of Republicans to the President on the contention, "He has kept us out of war."

There is likewise a steady drift of Democrats of the business world swinging into line for Mr. Hughes.

HOW THE TIDE IS SWEEPING.

A study of the percentage tables published in The Herald today shows a sweep of the tides which are running in the present campaign. When The Herald's first straw vote tabulation was published the President was receiving 45 per cent of the total vote cast. He went the second week to 46, remained there for a week, and in the last compilation, given today, he is receiving 47 1-2 per cent. On the other hand, Mr. Hughes in the first computation received 55 per cent of the total vote and is now receiving 50 per cent.

In the comparative shifts from party to party and from the Progressives, the President makes gains also. The total gain of Mr. Hughes from all sources, from Roosevelt and Wilson, 1912, was, roughly, four to one over the President. Now it is less than three to one.

The Hughes gain from the Roosevelt vote of 1912 in the first tabulation was approximately four to one. Now it is about three to one. The percentages of gains in all the states from the Progressive ranks show that in The Herald's first computation Mr. Hughes was receiving 77 per cent and Mr. Wilson 21 per cent of the Progressive vote. Now Mr. Hughes is receiving 75 per cent and the President 23 per cent of the same vote.

The swing has unquestionably been in the direction of the President.

ROOSEVELT IN ARIZONA.

Arraigns the Administration in Speech at Phoenix.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 21.—Theodore Roosevelt reached his westernmost point in the present campaign today, delivered a speech in which he arraigned the present administration and repeated his recent declaration that when I was President I spoke softly and carried a big stick; President Wilson speaks bombastically and wields a dish rag." Mr. Roosevelt is to leave here early tomorrow for Albuquerque, N. M.

STRONG FIRING CONTINUES ON SOMME FRONT, SAYS BERLIN

Berlin, via London, Oct. 21.—The German official statement dealing with the Somme front reads:

"Army group of Prince Rupprecht: In the Somme region strong firing engagements continue between LeSars and Eaucourt L'Abbaye. English attacks in hand to hand fighting failed. Further west attempted enemy attacks were stifled by the strong and effective fire which we directed upon his storming trenches.

"French attacks cross the Sailly-Rancourt road broke down before our entanglements."

Berlin, Oct. 21 (via Sayville)—The German government will ask the Reichstag for a new war credit of 12,000,000,000 marks, says the Overseas News Agency.

SEMINOLE AND TAMPA MAKING 5 KNOTS HOUR

May Reach Virginia Capes With Liner Arapahoe Tonight

J. A. Spencer, a Passenger Aboard the Steamer, Died from Natural Causes Thursday Night and Was Buried at Sea.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 21.—Late reports tonight from the Clyde liner Arapahoe, which lost her rudder Friday in the storm and now in tow of the coast guard cutters Tampa and Seminole, stated they are well above Diamond Shoals. Commanders of the cutters believe the Virginia Capes will be reached by Sunday night. The cutters are averaging five knots an hour and report that the sea has greatly moderated. The disabled ship is declared in no danger.

The death of J. A. Spencer, a passenger on the Arapahoe from natural causes Thursday night, is also reported. No further details were supplied by wireless messages. The body was buried at sea.

ORGANIZED LABOR ISSUES APPEAL IN WILSON'S BEHALF

Members of All Affiliated Organizations Are Urged to Fight for His Re-Election.

LETTER IS SENT TO UNIONS

Reviews Record of Administration and Praises the President's Foreign Policies.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Organized labor's first official appeal to its membership in behalf of President Wilson's re-election was made public today at the American Federation of Labor headquarters. It is in the form of a circular letter to all officers of organized labor, calling on them to hold special meetings, if necessary, to consider the issues of the campaign, and see to it that wage earners go to the polls to protect their interests against "Wall Street."

The letter is signed by Samuel Gompers, president; James O'Connell, vice president, and Frank Morrison, secretary, as the Federation's labor representation committee, and it has been sent to the heads of all affiliated organizations. In reviewing the record of the administration it praises the President's course in foreign affairs, declaring that without war he has secured all the protection and benefits that would have accrued from a successful war, and asserts that at home the labor movement "has been able to secure recognition for the rights of human beings and opportunity for all to participate in the affairs of the nation in a degree that never before has been accomplished."

The Letter in Part.

The letter says in part:

"Greeting:—Never at any time within the last 50 years have the workers had more at stake in any political campaign than in the one that is to be decided in the election of November 7. During the present administration, and particularly in this campaign, there has developed a clear-cut issue between the workers—the producers—and those who manipulate the products of the labor of others—the exploiters.

"The issue is represented in the campaign by the conflicting interests represented by labor and Wall Street.

"During the present administration the organized labor movement has been able to secure recognition for the rights of human beings and opportunity for all to participate in the affairs of the nation in a degree that has never before been accomplished. * * *

"This recognition has taken the form of legislation necessary to protect the interests of wage earners and in the ideals of humanity that have guided and directed national policies both at home and in our relations with other nations.

Foreign Policies Praised.

"Though half of the world has been involved in a terrific conflict, and it seemed at times as though our nation must be drawn into the vortex of human slaughter, yet the chief executive of our land has been able to manage the affairs of the Nation and the interests of our citizens so that without the horrors of war he has established and maintained protection of human life and human rights in the somewhat vague domain of international law.

"What has been true in the case of the European war is also true in the case with the relations between our country and Mexico.

"The interests that have been seeking to plunge our country into war not only with European countries but also with Mexico, are the interests that are represented by the most selfish and most conscienceless element of Wall Street.

Organized Labor Recognized.

"So far as the internal affairs of our country are concerned, the organized labor movement as the authorized representative of the wage earners has demanded for them the right of participation in all the affairs of the nation and has secured recognition of that demand to a degree never before realized.

"During the past four years there has been enacted by Congress and signed by President Wilson humanitarian protective legislation unprecedented in amount and scope."

After mentioning the 8-hour day act, the Seamen's law, and the Child Labor law, the letter adds:

"On November 7, Election day, a decision will be made which will determine the future development of our country and the spirit of our national life for years to come.

"As representatives of the organized labor movement, which is the militant protective organization of all the workers and which stands primarily for human rights, we urge that the issues be considered at a regular or special meeting held by your organizations.

"The meeting should be a general one, and, if necessary, called especially for the purpose of seeing that those who have so much at stake should go to the polls to protect their interests.

"Wage earners cannot afford to lose their rights and opportunities through negligence and inaction.

"Meet, discuss the great issues to be decided on election day, November 7, and then go to the polls, cast your vote as your conscience directs for labor, justice, freedom and humanity."

BRITISH ADVANCE ALONG 5,000 YARD FRONT IN FRANCE

Successfully Check German Drive Between Ancre River and Pozieres-Bapaume Road.

TEUTONS GAIN IN DOBRUDJA

Serbians Continue Their Advance—Both Sides Claim Gains in Galicia and Volhynia.

Between the Ancre river and the Pozieres-Bapaume road on the Somme front in northern France, British troops, after successfully checking an offensive movement by the forces of the Crown Prince of Bavaria, successfully pushed forward from 300 to 500 yards on a front of 5,000 yards. The advance was made between LeSars and the Schwaben redoubt which was the scene of the earlier attack by the Germans. General Haig's men captured the Stuff and Regina trenches, advanced posts north and northeast of the Schwaben redoubt, and several hundred prisoners.

French Repulse Attacks.

The Germans also attacked strongly the French positions at Sailly-Saillisel, on the Bapaume-Peronne road, as well as positions between Blaches and La-Maisonnette near Peronne. The attackers were repulsed generally, but Paris admits they gained a footing north of Blaise wood. The French succeeded in an attack further south and gained possession of a wood north of Chaulnes.

Berlin and Petrograd report the repulse of attacks in Galicia and Volhynia and Berlin claims the capture of Russian positions of the Narayuvka river in the region of Halicz.

Teutons Gain in Dobrudja.

Striking hard against the Russian and Rumanian line in Dubrudja Field Marshal Von Mackensen has renewed successfully his offensive toward the Constanza-Tchernavada railway. Attacking along the forty-mile front, the forces of the Central Powers have made good progress almost everywhere.

On the Danube, the allied German, Bulgarian and Turkish troops have forced their way into the Entente positions south of Rachova. Along the Black Sea, on the other end of the line, Tusla was captured and several heights further inland were conquered. Several hundred Rumanians and 3,000 Russians were taken prisoner, Berlin records.

The Rumanians have been pressed back on their center an dleft wing, Bucharest admits. Petrograd says the Teutonic attack resulted in the loss of the village of Kogardja. Later attacks were repulsed.

Serbs Drive Forward

In southern Serbia, south of Monastir, the Serbian troops continue to advance against the stubborn resistance of the Bulgarian forces.

Having crossed the Cerna river in the bend at Brod, the Serbians now are about four miles north of that place. French troops, it is reported unofficially, are aiding the Serbians in the Kenali region, along the Florina-Monastir railroad.

Fighting continues along the Transylvania-Rumanian border with successes for both the Rumanians and the Teutonic troops. The Rumanians have taken several important positions along the front ,in addition to more than 600 prisoners. In the Buzeu valley, south of Kronstadt, however, Bucharest admits the Rumanians have been compelled to withdraw.

Austrian Premier Shot.

Count Karl Steurgkh, premier of Austria, has been shot and killed, says a semi-official report from Berlin. The shooting is reported to have been the act of a Vienna newspaper editor named Adler.

A German cruiser of the Kolberg class was torpedoed by a British submarine in the North Sea last Thursday. The cruiser remained afloat, although apparently damaged severely.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED.

Taken from Abbeville, S. C., Jail—Hit White Man With Hammer.

Abbeville, S. C., Oct. 21.—Anthony Crawford, a negro, was taken from jail and lynched here late today after he had struck M. B. Cann in the head with a hammer, probably fatally injuring him. Cann was one of a crowd of white men who had undertaken to whip the negro this morning for cursing a white merchant.

Crawford, who was reputed to have owned $20,000 worth of farm lands in this vicinity, was badly beaten by the crowd this morning, but Sheriff Burts reacued him. The negro, who had struck Cann in his struggle against the mob, was taken to jail where his wounds were dressed.

A mob said to number between 200 and 300 men, took the negro from jail late today, carried him to a spot near the county fair grounds and hanged him to a tree. His body then was riddled with bullets. Cann is expected to recover.

HUGHES STILL RESTING

Takes Automobile Trip With Mrs. Hughes—Indoors in Afternoon.

Montclair, N. J., Oct. 21.—Charles E. Hughes, after taking an automobile trip with Mrs. Hughes today, spent the afternoon indoors reading and resting. Charles E. Hughes, Jr., and family, will spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes.

SIMMONS HEARD IN RICHMOND COUNTY

Says Wilson's Name Will Live Throughout the World When Hughes' Has Been Forgotten

HEARD BY LARGE CROWD

Reviews the Record of Democracy in State and Nation, Showing That There is no Reason to Restore Republicans to Power

(Special Star Telegram).

Rockingham, N. C., Oct. 21.—Senator F. M. Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee of the United States Senate, delivered an address here today profound and magnificent. A warm and enthusiastic welcome was given by people from every section of the county who crowded the court house while a brass band furnished music amid cheers for the senior Senator from North Carolina .

W. Steele Lowdermilk introduced Hon. Lee D. Robinson, of Wadesboro, Democratic nominee for Congress from the Seventh district, who in characteristic manner introduced Senator Simmons in a short address full of force and replete with wisdom.

The greater portion of Mr. Simmons' speech was devoted to a thorough and brilliant discussion of State issues. He stated that North Carolina has the best laws and has made more progress and has received recognition that we are still doing great things. In the sixteen years since the Re publican power has been overthrown the white party has slowly lifted North Carolina from the low place to the most progressive community in the United States. "Why should we turn back to the power of the party who has never showed the slightest progressive spirit but which stopped the wheels of prosperity?"

The Republican party has never shown any capacity to give to North Carolina and any other Southern state any good or decent government. The party since the war has never been in sympathy with ideals and aspirations of the Southern people and today the party is more in sympathy with that party of the North who are led by Chas. E. Hughes, who is ranting because the South is now in control of the government. Whenever the Republican party has been in power it has attempted to pull down our civilization and elevate the black man over the white man and has never made an excuse but laughed at our humiliation for the debauchery and shame. Mr. Simmons asserted that no party not in sympathy with the ideals and aspirations of the people is capable of giving the people good and decent government, notwithstanding that the Republicans demand that a change be made and they be given another trial.

Mr. Simmons then discussed the grounds possible for a new trial and said it cannot be on the grounds that they are better. They are less able because they have lost competent men and for lack of competent accessions and because they have kicked out the two best men to make a place for that citizen of Washington and the District of Columbia, Marion Butler. We have no assurance of a better govern-

GIRL 14 YEARS OF AGE IS GIVEN 20-YEAR TERM

Sallie Bryson Convicted of Killing Her Mother.

She Says She Was Forced to Commit Deed by Her Father Who is on Trial—Judge Asks Examination by Specialists.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 21.—Sallie Bryson, the 14-year-old girl who killed her mother in Jackson county and who pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree, was sentenced today to serve 20 years in the penitentiary.

Judge W. F. Harding, who has been sitting on the case of her father, Robert Bryson, will have a copy of the evidence in the case written up and sent to the Governor, asking that Sallie Bryson be examined by a board of specialists to determine whether she is insane or abnormal in any respect. He will ask that, in case the girl is found mentally deficient, that she be given treatment and an immediate pardon, but that if she is sane, she serve her full sentence.

The case of Robert Bryson, the father of Sallie, whom the little girl charged with having forced her to kill her mother, is now in the hands of a jury, but a verdict is not expected until late tomorrow or perhaps Monday.

Is Not Expecting "Certain Gentlemen" to Have a Chance to Get Country Into War.

MUCH 'IRRESPONSIBLE TALK'

Says it "Disturbs National Counsel," and That on November 7 "We Will Call Time."

SPEAKS TO THE FARMERS

Delegation of Architects and Engineers Also Hear Him.

Long Branch, N. J., October 21. —In a speech devoted primarily to a discussion of the need for economic preparedness in the United States, President Wilson told a delegation of engineers here today, that he did engineers here otday that he did not expect the United States to get into war.

"I know that the way in which we have preserved peace is objected to," said the President, "and that certain gentlemen say they would have taken some other way that would inevitably have resulted in war, but I am not expecting this country to get into war, partly because I am not expecting these gentlemen to have a chance to make a mess of it."

Represent Nation's Whole Force.

Taking the work done by the administration for the farmers as his text, Mr. Wilson declared:

"We want the privilege of representing the whole force of the nation."

He demanded that men be put through a "third degree" in respect to where they stand with regard to love of the United States and he said he was glad the campaign was nearly over "because I am in a hurry to get down to business again."

Much "Irresponsible Talk."

"There is a great deal of irresponsible talk being indulged in," declared the President in discussing the campaign. "Men are saying things they know perfectly well they cannot make good on, and it disturbs the national counsel. On the seventh of November we will call time."

Mr. Wilson said the Democratic party had been trying to take the government out of the control of small groups and "square it with the counsel of the whole nation."

Mobilize Industrial Resources.

In detail he told of work being done to mobilize the industrial resources of the nation, saying "one of the great lessons of the European war has been that the economic co-ordination and co-operation of the country is just as important as the military co-operation of it."

The occasion of the President's address was the celebration of "Farmers Day" at Shadow Lawn, but a delegation of architects and engineers from New York also were present. Farmers from New Jersey and other nearby states came to the celebration.

Republican Neglect.

The President in his speech charged his Re publican predecessors with long and systematic neglect, which, he said, left an absolutely clear field for the present administration.

The farmers were told, he said, that they were getting the "indirect benefit" of a high tariff, but that duties were placed on almost everything they had to use and the cost was correspondingly enhanced.

"The whole point of view of our legislation has been this," continued the President, "that a special set of men who thought they could guide the nation better than anybody else and preferred to guide it in private, asked certain chief beneficiaries of the tariff to come together and suggest what the schedules of the tariff should be. So that these gentlemen have the idea that I have several times pointed that it was best for us to be in the hands of guardians. Now, I, for one, have come of age sometime ago and I decline to live as a ward. I insist upon living as a grown up individual, ready to take my part in the councils of the nation and to insist that I shall be considered primarily along with the rest and not secondary.

Trying to Make a Partnership.

"So that what we are trying to do, all along the line is to establish co-operation, general development, common counsel. We have been trying to make a partnership of it, and I am glad to say we have succeeded.

"One of the great lessons of the European war has been that the economic mobilization of the country, the economic co-ordination and co-operation of it, is just as important as the military co-operation of it.

"I am not expecting this country to get into war. I know that the way in which we have preserved peace is objected to, and that certain gentlemen say they would have taken some other way that would have inevitably resulted in war, but I am not expecing these gentlemen to have a chance to make a mess of it. But I am very glad to take advantage of the present

CAROLINA LOSES HARD GAME TO GEORGIA TECH

Folger Starred for the Tar Heels—Score Was 10 to 6.

Was One of Hardest Gridiron Struggles Ever Staged on the Georgians' Field—Techs Scored After Six Minutes' Play.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.—Georgia Tech won a victory over North Carolina here today, 10 to 6 in one of the hardest fought football games ever staged on the local gridiron. The work of Folger, who handled the ball in about four out of five North Carolina plays, and of Strupper, Spence and Johnston for Tech featured.

Tech scored after six minutes of play when Strupper caught a punt and raced 50 yards through the entire Tar Heel team for a touchdown. Preas kicked goal. Five minutes later Spence kicked a goal from the 30-yard line after Captain Johnston had carried the ball within striking distance. In the next two periods the ball was kept near the center of the field. Carolina scored in the fourth period when a forward pass, Folger to Ramsey, and two line bucks sent Tennant across. Tandy missed the goal. The Tar Heels later carried the ball to Tech's 8-yard line, but lost it on an incompleted forward pass over the goal line.

Jim Sentor, Tech's right-end, had a small bone broken in his left ankle during the second period and Fullback Spence received a blow on the head and is threatened with concussion of the brain.

The line-up:

Tech.		N. Carolina
Dunwoody	LE	Lane
Mauck	LT	Ramsey
Preas	LG	Grimes
Phillips	C	Tandy
Lang	RG	Harrill
Carpenter	RT	Taylor
Sentor	RE	Proctor
Morrison	QB	Johnson
Strupper	LH	Folger
Johnston	RH	Fitzsimmons
Spence	FB	Tennant

Score by periods:

Tech	10	0	0	0	—10
Carolina	0	0	0	6	— 6

Referee, Ellis, West Point; umpire, Lewis, Virginia; field judge Thomas, V. M. I.; head linesman, Beavers, Georgia. Time of periods, 15 minutes each.

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdown, Strupper; goal from touchdown, Preas; goal from field, Spence. North Carolina scoring: Touchdown, Tennant.

Substitutions: Georgia Tech—McReynolds for Johnston; Glover for Spence; Fencher for Preas; Bell for Mauck; West for Lang; Meadors for Sentor; Lang for West; Hill for Strupper; Mauck for Bell; Johnston for McReynolds; Alexander for Fincher; McReynolds for Johnston; Griffin for Hill; Guill for Meadors; Johnson for Mauck; Fellars for Griffin; Shaver for Glover.

North Carolina—Williams for Johnson; Bellamy for Fitzsimmons; Barton for Harrill; Ingram for Grimes; Black for Bellamy; Coleman for Black.

WAKE FOREST TEAM DEFEATS RALEIGH TENNIS CHAMPIONS

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 21.—J. J. London and R. W. Winston, Jr., tennis champions of the Raleigh Country Club, were defeated this afternoon on the Wake Forest courts by H. M. Poteat and E. B. Earnshaw, of the faculty of Wake Forest College, in three straight sets by the scores of 6-4, 6-1, 6-1. In the singles Poteat defeated Winston 6-3.

H. M. London and Bass, of Raleigh, defeated Gladney and Dixon, of Wake Forest College, 6-1, 6-1.

While Wake Forest was winning at home, C. G. Best and E. E. Folke, representing Wake Forest College, were administering a defeat to Elon on their home courts in both doubles and singles.

HON. J. A. BROWN SPEAKS

Heard by Good Crowd at Warsaw—In Columbus County This Week.

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 21.—Hon. Jos. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, delivered a very interesting and forceful address in behalf of the Democratic party before a good sized crowd gathered here this afternoon and made a splendid impression upon his audience, discussing both State and National issues in an illuminating and entertaining manner.

Mr. Brown is scheduled to deliver nine speeches in his home county of Columbus the coming week in the interest of Democracy.

NAVY RALLIES AND WINS FROM WEST VIRGINIA TEAM

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 21.—With the score 7 to 0 against them at the end of the second period today, the Naval Academy football team braced up and made a touchdown in each of the next two periods, winning from the West Virginia University 12 to 7. The lucky breaks generally favored the midshipmen, who were outplayed in many respects.

The visitors made 12 successful forward passes, some of them for more than 30 yards. A penalty for slugging and a recovered fumble put the Navy within striking distance for the winning touchdown and after a successful forward pass put them within a yard of the goal, Welchel carried the ball over.

GEORGETOWN WINS FROM THE HAVERHILL ELEVEN, 10 TO 0

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 21.—Georgetown University defeated the Dartmouth football team 10 to 0 here today, due largely to the work of Gilroy, a Haverhill youth, who played left half back on the visiting eleven. Gilroy made a 28-yard run through four opposing players. He later hurled a forward pass to wall behind the Dartmouth goal line and then kicked goal. In the last period Maloney dropkicked a goal for three more points. A fumble cost Dartmouth an opportunity to score in the second period.

TIGERS TROUNCE CITY HIGH

School Boys Play Scrappy Game But Are Outclassed by Heavier and More Experienced Opponents.

"And they finished the ride,
With the Highs inside,
And a smile on the face of the Tiger."

Unable to cope with their heavier and more experienced rivals, the Wilmington High School went down in defeat at Hilton Park yesterday afternoon, before the Wilmington Tigers, by a score of 52 to 0, in the opening gridiron battle of the season in this city.

The winners depended largely on their forward passing, of which they proved themselves masters, and long end runs to bring in the bacon. The high line offered very little resistance to the plunging Tiger backs, but the latter seemed to prefer the end runs, a feat that seldom failed to make some substantial gains.

The Highs showed plainly their lack of training. They had plenty of stamina and "pep" but they lacked the smooth machine like play that marked the efforts of their opponents. True the game does not count against them, for it was nothing more than a practice to begin with, and nobody expected them to lick the big Tiger crew, which boasted several collegians in its lineup.

The outstanding feature for the Tigers was the playing of Shepard, Hall, Burnett and Wagner. This quartette proved to be the motive power in pushing their mahcine down the field for numerous touchdowns.

Griffith and Twining were a tower of strength in the backfield for the school boys, while Penton also played well. Twining got away for several pretty runs while the tackling of the midget Griffith was sure and deadly.

The Highs have the material for a classy team, and with a little more practice they ought to develop into one of the fastest school teams in the State. They are preparing to tackle the strong Donaldson eleven at Fayetteville next Friday.

The line-up:

Tigers (52)		High School (0)
Rhodes	C	Johnson
Ritch	RG	R. Sanders
Mills	LG	W. Sanders
Lewis	LT	Farmer
Kelly	RT	McEachern
Shore	LE	Penton
Shannon	RE	R. Burnett
Wagner	QB	Fenley
Shepard	LH	Twinning
Hall	RH	Wright
B. Burnett	FB	Davis

Time of halves 15 minutes.

Scoring: Touchdowns, Hall 3, Shepard 2, Burnett 1, Kelly 1, Wagner 1; goal from touchdown, Hall; goal from field, Hall.

Substitutions: High School, Griffith for Davis; Hall for Burnett. Referee, umpire, head linesman, timekeeper and field marshal general, J. B. Huntington.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 21.—Vanderbilt made five touchdowns, each followed by a goal, in the first period of the football game with the University of Mississippi today, after which a number of substitutes were sent in and were unable to score further. The final score was 35 to 0. Mississippi never approached within striking distance of the Vanderbilt goal.

Virginia Is Severely Defeated By Georgia

Result of Yesterday's Game Indicates That Thanksgiving Game With Carolina May be Stiffest Struggle in Years.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 21.—Georgia handed Virginia such a wallop in the football game which the former won on Lambeth Field this afternoon by the score of 13 to 7, that the alumni's annual "home-coming day" was a bleak and dreary affair.

Neither team entered the game with much confidence as Georgia was crippled and Virginia was admittedly weak, but the Red and Black got the jump by scoring a touchdown in the first three minutes of play and after that they played their old rivals fairly off their feet. It was the Athens eleven's first victory over the Orange and Blue after taking the loser's end in three bitter contests.

Virginia held a frail lead of one point for a few minutes in the first period by scoring a touchdown and kicking the goal which the Georgians had missed on their try, but the Georgians jumped back into the lead in the second period by means of a rattling touchdown achieved by bucking the line hard off tackle.

After that Virginia looked like a beaten team. Coach Evans in desperation tried to ward off defeat by throwing Allan Thurman, his big right guard, into the breach. Thurman had just returned from France where he drove an ambulance, and although his punts carried high he could not rally his faltering comrades.

Virginia's adherents conceded her only a slim chance to beat Vanderbilt at Nashville next Saturday after today's showing, and expect the stiffest fight in years in the Thanksgiving Day battle with North Carolina.

On the other hand, Georgia's supporters think her play today gives her a splendid chance against the Navy next Saturday. It was a fine day for football with a bright sun and a cloudless sky.

Virginia's defense held fairly well after the second period but whenever her scoring machine got within striking distance of Georgia's goal some one would fumble and a Red and Black stocking always was there to retrieve it. Virginia's forward passing was miserable while Georgia's skill at that style of play gave her her second touchdown and victory. Standing on Virginia's thirty-yard line Nevill shot the ball overhead to Tate, who sped lightly over the five yards that separated him from the goal line.

Georgia's first touchdown came with startling suddenness. Soon after Virginia kicked off the Athens crew were forced to punt. John Coleman booted the ball high in the air and Jim White, seeing that if he caught in near his own goal line he would be thrown in his tracks stood back to let it roll over. It hit his shoe and was deflected into the arms of Georgia's fleet quarter, Dezendorf, who dashed thirty yards over the line for a touchdown. Coleman failed to make the goal.

Virginia scored ten minutes after play began. She did not surrender the ball after the kickoff but carried it steadily down the field by a series of line plunges and one forward pass. Sparr took it over for the tying touchdown and Carrington kicked the goal.

In the last minute of play Virginia threatened to win. Georgia was forced to kick from her 35 yard line. H. Coleman, of Virginia, blocked the kick, recovered the ball and dashed desperately toward Georgia's goal just as the final whistle was blowing. He was downed on the five yard line.

The line-up:

Georgia	Position	Virginia
Hutchinson	LE	Hager
Thrash (c)	LT	McKay
Ferguson	LG	H. Coleman
Pew	C	Churchman
Petree	RG	Calvert
Wingate	RT	Ward
Tate	RE	Darwin
Dasendorf	QB	J. White
McLaw	LH	Carrington
J. Coleman	RH	Russell
Neville	FB	Sparr

Score by periods:

Georgia	6	7	0	0	—13
Virginia	7	0	0	0	— 7

Touchdowns: Georgia, Dezendorf, Tate; Virginia, Sparr; goals from touchdown, Davis, Carrington.

Substitutions: For Georgia, Beasley for Petree, Reynolds for McLaws, Davis for Coleman.

For Virginia—Fite for Hagar, Steward for McKay, Montague for Churchman, Thursman for Calvert, Goodwyn for Darwin, C. White for J. White, Kinsolving for Carrington, Airey for Kinsolving, Pace for Airey.

Referee, Barry, (Georgetown); umpire, Donnally, (Trinity); field judge, Magoffin, (Michigan); head linesman, McWhorter, (Georgia); time of periods, 15 minutes.

NOVEL FARM DEMONSTRATION.

Farmer Who Couldn't be Interested Until It Was Hooked Up to Silo.

Here is an unusual demonstration of an Overland New Series Model 75-B, which resulted in the sale of a car.

As a rule when a prospect is interested in a certain make of car, he likes to try out the car, by a ride or two, basing his decision on the action of the car on the road. But this sale was recorded somewhat differently.

This Overland and Willys-Knight dealer called upon a prospect who lived 45 miles away. On reaching his farm he found him busy cutting corn and fodder for his silo. The farmer absolutely refused to talk car.

After watching the farmer and his hands at work for a while the Overland dealer suggested a novel demonstration, to which the farmer at length consented.

The cutter and feeder were hooked to the rear wheels of the Model 75-B which was jacked up and placed on stumps. The corn and fodder were then cut and transferred to the silo for five hours, without a skip or miss of any kind.

Needless to say that the demonstration was enough to sell this car.

Peace and Prosperity call for a liberal contribution. Help the Wilson fund grow.

The sunny South's gift to cigarette smokers

OVERLAND STOCK CAR STEPS FAR OF ARIZONA DESERT.

They Can Travel Fast Enough for Most Avid Speed Maniac.

Although neither the Overland nor Willys-Knight cars are constructed with racing speeds in mind the Willys-Overland cars from Toledo, Ohio, have repeatedly offered assurances that they can travel fast enough to satisfy the most avid speed maniac.

The latest proof of this is offered by the Overland-Arizona Company, the Overland distributor at Phoenix, Aris. The service manager of this establishment, Albert Gladney, took an Overland touring car and had it altered slightly according to his own racing ideas.

The wheel base was shortened and the gear ratio in the rear end was altered to three and one-eighth to one. The cam shaft was taken out of stock. Both fan and fly-wheel were left off. A special aluminum body was mounted on the chassis.

The reconstructed car has negotiated a speed of 90 miles an hour at 3,000 r.p.m. and will run 70 miles an hour on second speed.

It has finished within the money every time it has started. Its most recent feat was the capture of the Winslow, Ariz., races a few weeks ago, without any preparatory tuning up over a very rough track, distancing all other contestants from two to five miles.

The most remarkable part about the Winslow event was that even though the day was hot that the race was run at an altitude of 5,000 feet, the car covered the 25 miles without a fan and at the end of the run the radiator was cool enough to allow people to hold their cheeks against it.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 21.—Princeton easily won from LaFayette here today 33 to 0, the Princeton team being made up largely of substitutes during the last two periods. Dave Tibbot again starred by kicking two field goals, one being for 43 yards against the wind. Jack Eddy made three touchdowns, and the entire Princeton offense showed improvement.

Complete Stock of Corsets

We are featuring in our corset section such well known lines as Redfern, Gossard, Binner, Nemo, R. & G. and Warner. Our corsetiere will be pleased to fit you in any model priced at $3.50 or over. The stock is entirely new and the styles are strictly up to the minute. Corsets to sell for $1.00 to $10.00 per pair.

We Can Now Offer Complete Stocks In All Sections

With the arrival last week of numerous late shipments, and with the addition of many items that came by express to fill the gaps which naturally would occur in purchasing a complete new stock, we can now say without fear of contradiction that we have the most complete stock of dry goods, notions, ready-to-wear and millinery ever grouped together under one roof in Wilmington.

In this advertisement we will state briefly the various shipments that arrived last week. Our second floor fixtures are in the store and are being put in place by an expert from the factory and we hope by another week that we can open this handsome department to the public. In the meantime we wish to emphasize the fact that we are wonderfully prepared to fill your every want in the lines that are sold here.

Curtain Nets and Ready-Made Curtains Received

The drapery department is rapidly rounding into shape. Several large cases of scrims, cretonnes, chintz, nets and ready-made curtains came during the week and we want you to come in and admire this new lot of merchandise.

Ready-made curtains, 2½ yards long, of fine nets, priced at $1.50 to $8.00 per pair.

Cretonnes, imported chintz and tapestries are priced at 25¢ to $1.25 per yard.

Handsome embossed tapestries in beautiful colorings and designs, priced at $2.50 to $6.00 per yard

Below Is a List of Items That Came in Last Week

It may be that you were in the store during the first two weeks of our business here and called for some of the items listed below and found them out of stock. Whenever you call for an article or piece of merchandise in this store and it belongs in the dry goods line, the sales person immediately records that fact upon a pad of paper which is specially used for that purpose and an order is sent in for the goods. Therefore you will always find our stocks kept up to the highest point of efficiency through this method of recording what the customer wants.

MILLER AND WIGGINS GO NEXT TO JUDGE CONNOR

Condemned Men Will Appeal for Writs of Habeas Corpus.

Judge Murphy, of Asheville, to Appear in District Court Monday—Men Sentenced to Die Friday. Fair Prizes Awarded

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 21.—Having failed in his effort at Washington to get the case taken up direct by the United States Supreme Court, Judge Murphy, of Asheville, will be here Monday to institute a petition in the United States District court before Judge Henry G. Connor for writs of habeas corpus in the interest of Hardy Wiggins and Merrit Miller, of Graham county, who are scheduled to die in the electric chair on Friday of next week for the murder of Phillip Phillips.

This is the case in which Hardy Wiggins was recently taken from the death cell at the State's prison and conveyed to Pullen Memorial Baptist church and there immersed in the baptismal pool of that church by the pastor, Rev. Lyman Diltz, who is greatly interested in both the condemned men and believes them innocent. He has been doing considerable work in their interest and believes that Ed. Williams, a negro who is serving a life sentence for the murder of the wife and children of Phillips, is the real murderer of Phillips. Diltz quotes Arch Deacon Hughes, of the Episcopal church, who has had much to do with Williams in his prison work at the State farm, as being satisfied that Williams is the real murderer of Phillips.

Governor Craig has heretofore intimated that he would not interfere with the sentence of the two, having, however, granted the present respite to allow them time to have their cases taken to the Federal court if they desired to do so.

Fair Prizes Awarded.

At the State Fair this week the sweep stakes award for best corn went to Charles Lewis, of Wilkes county, with Herman Leonard, of Davidson county, second and John Lewis, of Wilkes, third. In the boys' corn club exhibits first prize for coastal plain section went to Hobson Hockaday, of Harnett county, with Theodore Thomas, of Richmond county, second. In the piedmont section of the exhibits, first prize went to Herman Leonard, of Davidson, and second to Earl Grubbs, of Forsyth. For the mountain section Charles Lewis, of Wilkes, was the winner with Arthur Setzer, of Wilkes, as second.

First prize in the pig club exhibits went to E. J. Coltraine, of Guilford, and second to Ezeom Gamble, of Guilford.

ment for they have failed to state what they would do if given the power.

We cannot know what they will do except by what they did when they last operated on us and, though we escaped with our lives, we had a mighty narrow shave. Mr. Simmons stated that he had not only sought to find out if the Republicans should have a new trial. There was never a day in our history when we were more happy and contented and our efforts more remunerated; never a time when we had more comfort and luxuries; never a time when the resources of our State were better developed; never a time when the moral and intellectual powers and faculties of the minds of our people were developed and quickening into life those inscrutable forces and divine spark which lives in the heart and soul of mankind. Senator Simmons answered fully the criticism of "honest Ben Lacy" and called attention forcefully to the fact for the first time in North Carolina two years ago a Democratic Legislature gave the Treasurer power to force a collection of interest on State funds in banks.

Mr. Simmons then entered into a discussion of the franchise amendment of the constitution regulating the voting of the negro, stating that the effectiveness of the amendment depended upon the enforcement rather than upon its passage, and asked if the Republican party would enforce it, being an unsympathetic party.

He then spoke of the railway legislation and the prohibition laws. He stated that he did not know what the Republicans would do but that when they were in power a prominent Republican got up in the House and said that the old Confederate soldier was a traitor and ought to be hung for treason. He then spoke of our educational system and pointed out the fallacy of the proposed Republican system.

"We admit," he said, "that we are spending more money than the Republicans did for education, but it takes money to do things, money spent for the uplift of the people is not extravagance, but wise economics."

He stated that we paid with one exception less tax per capita than any other state in the Union.

Senator Simmons reviewed the achievements of the administration of Wilson and stated that if Chas. E. Hughes would come out and say that he would repeat the great measures placed upon the statute books by the Democratic party and Wilson, the Federal Reserve Bank system, the Farm Loan Bank system, the Federal Income tax law and the Ship Purchase bill, that he would not carry a state in the Union.

In speaking of the handling of the situation of the threatened railroad strike, he said that Wilson rose to the height of the world's greatest heroes.

When Wilson was told that intervention might mean his party's defeat, he said "it is not a matter of only railroad employer and employee; that the interests of a hundred million American people are involved. My personal fortunes do not weigh in the balance with the danger to the people." With an outburst of eloquence, he paid Wilson the highest tribute.

In closing Mr. Simmons stated that when the name of Chas. E. Hughes is forgotten and the shaft which shall rise above his grave shall have crumbled into dust, the name of Wilson will live not only in the United States but in every part of the world, for in the past two years he has become the world's greatest humanitarian.

PRESIDENT MAKES IT KNOWN HE EXPECTS TO WIN IN THE ELECTION

concentration of the attention of the world upon the problems of war to make it evident to the country that these same problems are the problems of peace so far as they are economic problems."

The President then told in detail of the work being done by engineering, medical and other scientific organizations in organizing the resources of the Nation.

Waking Up to Unity.

"So from every quarter, by friends," he went on, "this splendid thing is happening, that this country is waking up to its unity, to the mutual responsibility to each other of its citizens, waking up to the sense of partnership and co-operation and co-ordination which has been by intention, at any rate, and I hope by performance, the impelling motive of the present administration.

"That is our interest in agriculture. That is the reason we recently appropriated $36,000,000 to these various undertakings that I have been describing, as against only $24,000,000 in the previous administrations. That is the reason we have been working upon this philosophy.

"You cannot worship God on an empty stomach. You cannot be a patriot when you are starving. You cannot run the machinery of your physical system unless there is fuel in the furnace. The spirit in nation in some sense comes from the feeling of the nation.

Eager to Resume Work.

"I am glad, my fellow citizens, that the campaign is nearly over. I am in a hurry to get down to business again. There is a great deal of irresponsible talk being indulged in. Men are saying lots of things that they know perfectly well they cannot make good on, and it disturbs the national counsel. We are too hardheaded to be taken in and yet we have to allow ourselves to seem to be taken in for several months together."

"I must not let any opportunity pass without mentioning our relationships with the rest of the world," the President said in conclusion, "because they are going to be incomparably more intimate in the years to come than they ever have been in the years gone. That is the reason we are insisting, my fellow citizens, that when men think, they shall think in terms of America and not in terms of other countries.

"That is the reason we are putting men through the third degree, in respect to where they stand with regard to love of the United States. That is the reason we are submitting them to examination as to whether they qualify as genuine Americans, or not, and if they qualify as genuine Americans, not only in profession but in performance, then we are ready to be partners with them and go ahead, but if they do not, they will have to go through a period of probation, when we will allow them to sit by us but will not alow them to take part with us, when we will insist that they be instructed by our precept and by our example; and when we shall show them that the only dignity that they can get, the only glory they can get, the only self-satisfaction they get is by sharing with all the true hearted men that fundamental allegiance which makes a man prouder of things that he has done for others than he is for things that he has done for himself."

Lookout, announced that the vessel was safe and with all of her 100 passengers on board was being towed to this port. She is expected to reach here early Monday morning.

The message from Captain Staples said that the coast guard cutter Seminole, towing the ship with the assistance of the Mallory liner Comal, had been joined today by the cutter Tampa and the Comal had proceeded on her way. All ships of the Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies fleet now in coast waters have been ordered to set their course so that one or more of them shall be at all times within easy reach of the Arapahoe should they be needed.

NATIONAL CENSORSHIP FOR 'MOVIES' URGED

Resolution Adopted by Episcopal House of Deputies.

Rigid Observance of the Sabbath Urged Also—Memorial Asking Endorsement of Prohibition Referred to Committee.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—The general committee of the Protestant Episcopal church today turned its attention to the effect that motion pitcures are having on the morals of America, and the House of De puties adopted a resolution directing the social service commission of the church to encourage as much as possible the movement for national censorship.

As originally proposed, the resolution said an "increasing number" of undesirable films were being shown but after considerable discussion those words were eliminated.

Another resolution adopted by the House of De puties refers to the increasing tendency to divorce and dishonor of Sunday and urges on the clergy and laity a "rigid observance in all social habits of those Christian principles which make for sobriety, purity and holiness in life."

Announcement was made from the House of Bishops that among those elected to the board of missions are Bishop Alfred Harding, of Washington, D. C., and the Rev. W. T. Manning, of New York, who were among five members of the board to resign anything. These resignations followed the sending over of their protests of representatives to Panama last February to confer with the representatives of Protestant missionary boards on the general subject of missions in Latin-America.

Most Effective Remedy Mother Had Ever Used

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Relieves Baby When Other Medicines Failed.

There is nothing so necessary to a child's health and comfort as regularity of the bowles. All children are especially susceptible to stomach trouble and any overstrain of the sensitive organs has a tendency to obstruct elimination. This condition is responsible for much of the illness of childhood.

To relieve constipation a mild laxative should be employed. Cathartics and purgatives are violent in their action and should be avoided. Mrs. Alfred DuBois, Mt. Holly, N. J., says Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is without doubt the most effective remedy for constipation she has ever used and that it is the only remedy she could find for her baby. Little Earl was badly constipated during his first year and nothing she tried seemed to help him until she got a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Now he is a fine strong, healthy boy, and she thanks Dr. Caldwell for it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin; free from opiates or narcotic drugs; it acts gently without griping or other discomfort, and appeals to children because of its pleasant taste. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle, and every mother should have it in the house for use whenever occasion arises.

To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes always be sure to ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord honorable; and shalt honor Him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own leisure, nor speaking thine own words:

Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

—Isaiah 58:13, 14.

"Bring out your hidden beauty," urges a writer. Thanks for the compliment.

Judge Hughes has been a prosecuting officer, but he never convicted a man for what he failed to do.

The man who has one bale of cotton now can get more money for it than he could for three bales in October, 1914.

Colonel Roosevelt may think he is helping Judge Hughes, but it shows how easily the Colonel's imagination can pull the wool over his eyes.

Adam tried evasion in the Garden of Eden, but he had to take what was coming to him. Whereupon Judge Hughes must have reason to be sad.

A Republican paper announces that "the student vote is for Hughes." The only significance attached to that is that some students may not have advanced beyond the hazing class.

The Columbia State inquires: "Is a woman capable of voting a secret ballot?" Well, it will take her a long time to do so, as she will do her best to find out the secret first.

Some Western man gave President Wilson's hand such a squeeze that Dr. Grayson had to dress it. Recently Taft and Roosevelt shook hands, but no doctor had to be summoned.

They have even organized a society "to solve the boy problem," but if it is a movement for the abolition of corporal punishment all the boys will cooperate with alacrity in all the plans of the society.

Says the Muncie (Ind.) Press: "A woman in Evansville is stopping all the painted girls she meets on the streets and wiping off their faces." If she keeps it up she is liable to be snatched baldheaded—that is if she mistakes grand maw for a painted girl.

Wall Street is mad with President Wilson because he moved money headquarters from that special interest center to Washington. All people who are glad should vote for Wilson, else help Wall Street to punish him for doing something for the people.

Teddy had the right to change his opinion and take two different positions on the same question, but he has no right to call it vacillation for others to do so, unless he calls it vacillation for him to beat all others in the matter of sidestepping former declarations.

Why does any North Carolinian have to go away from North Carolina to buy a farm or a ranch? Why, it is because they don't know their opportunities in this State on account of the fact that there are very few people in the State who really comprehend the latent and rich resources and possibilities in them.

Let's round up the G. O. P. elephant on the 7th of November. Get in the big drive. Nobody ought to care for the old elephant but the "melon cutters" and special interests and the crowd which wants something for nothing. The crowd which gets something for nothing when the Republican party is in power naturally wants it in their business at Washington. We don't.

DEMAGOGUERY VS. STATESMANSHIP.

We have peace with all the nations of the earth. Who can dispute it? We are free from the money domination of Wall Street. Who can dispute it? We have prosperity. Who can dispute it? What more do we want, unless we want to play thunder with ourselves and the whole country?

In his campaign for the presidency, Judge Hughes has voiced the dissatisfaction and unrest of the country and he has appealed to it on the stump. Evidently he thinks it is in the majority and will vote for him with reckless abandon, despite the fact that he has not and can not tell us what to expect his administration to do for either the people or the country. All we are able to judge from the man's campaign is that he is dissatisfied with peace, is grouchy because we are no longer hampered by money manipulation by Wall Street, and is not grateful for and cannot possibly approve of prosperity, which he slurringly says is only temporary—a mere guess about a matter about which no man knows a thing.

The constant and persistent attack of Hughes on Wilson's peace policy naturally indicates to us that he has a contempt for peace and he impresses us in every way as the apostle of discontent and unrest. He preaches discontent and sectionalism and everything that no statesman would preach. He takes the whole nation for a sore-headed body politic. He denounces President Wilson for doing the very things that ought to make the people overwhelmingly turn to Wilson and the Democratic party as the salvation of this country.

It strikes us that the people certainly ought to be for peace and for financial freedom from Wall Street and for prosperity and free opportunity, but it strikes us that Hughes is for unrest and discontent and even war if he can't otherwise get a showing for the presidency. In his campaign speeches he certainly has catered to the apparently small clique of Americans who appear to be hysterically obsessed of the idea that, while nearly the whole world is at war, the United States ought to have contempt for itself for losing an opportunity to bluster around and bluff and take all the chances of getting into war in Europe and especially to have a war of some description with Mexico—any kind of old war, either in America or Europe, which ever offers the best chance.

The bloody jingoes are terribly dissatisfied because all war opportunities have been neglected, hence Hughes and Roosevelt and the element they cater to are making bitter and contemptibly inspired attacks on the foreign policy of President Wilson. His policy has been a peace policy, hence those who are opposed to war certainly ought to vote for and vindicate Wilson and his policy. It is quite evident that the people of this country have not wanted war and that they were not disposed to engage in a war of any kind, not even to sustaining aggression towards Mexico. That is strikingly evident in the fact that the whole country did not rise up for service on the Mexican border or "somewhere" in Mexico. Even the men of military age have shown no disposition to answer the call to protect our border from Mexican bandits, much less intervene in Mexico and fight the whole Mexican nation, good and bad.

We are compelled to accept that as American sentiment against war, unless it is impossible to avoid it. At least the people from Maine to Texas have not yet seen sufficient cause or provocation for them to demand war. It is quite clear that they would never have supported a jingo administration. Yet, in spite of that, Hughes and Roosevelt bitterly assail the wise peace policy of President Wilson who has not considered events of such a grave nature that he would be willing to get into war and sacrifice the lives of hundreds and thousands of our best young men and spend millions of treasure to accomplish—what? Instead of "spoiling for a fight" like Roosevelt and talking like he would fight, just as Hughes is talking to suit Roosevelt, the President has steadily and sturdily pursued a diplomatic course which has secured results and left us in a condition infinitely more to be desired than the ruinouse and tragic consequences of war—even a little one.

Even that little episode at Vera Cruz and the inconsequential punitive expedition into Mexico were bad enough, for not less than 200 American families are mourning the loss of some of their loved ones. Accomplishing present results at such a small loss of life is better than any possible result that might have been obtained by plunging the whole Nation into mourning and distress and loss. Certainly the American people have given the country every evidence that they have not wanted war, and if they vote in accordance with their indisposition to go into the army or the National Guard to get a whiff of war, Wilson certainly ought to sweep the country.

As a matter of fact, Wilson ought to sweep the country on his foreign policy alone, for that is what has kept us out of war. Of course, no brave man minds sacrificing his life when the necessity is absolute and there is tragic inevitability that can not be otherwise avoided, but no man would care to have his country to blunder into war without being able to sincerely proclaim the cause as sacred and without counting the cost and the consequences.

The enormity and hell of war, the Shermanic idea of the tragedy of armed conflict, cannot be conceived as it is fully comprehended after a country once gets into it, hence it is like playing with fire to follow Hughes in his attacks on a peace policy. If he is not in earnest in opposing Wilson's foreign policy, he is a designing demagague. If he is for peace, as he now says he is, he betrays a lack of wisdom in attacking a peace policy that has ctually kept us at peace. A peace policy that would actually get us into war would be different, but when we are enjoying the peace that we know is the result of Wilson's foreign policy, Hughes' criticisms of that policy show that he either lacks common sense to appreciate Wilson's peace policy and to recognize peace when we have peace. Since we have peace, what else does Hughes want?

We are satisfied that he does not want war, for that would indicate that he is a fool, but we are satisfied that he wants to be president and has been playing the demagogue with the hope that he can make good at it. That is the chief reason why he should not be elected, while Wilson's peace policy that has secured us all this peace is the chief reason why the President should be re-elected. Hughes is attacking Wilson for every reason that the people should vote for Wilson.

Since Wilson has secured peace for us and we know we have it, and since he has liberated the whole of America from financial slavery to Wall Street, we can't conceive why any reasonable man would want to waste a vote on Charles E. Hughes, who has not made it plain to us what the dickens he wants. As a matter of fact, he is playing the American people for an aggregation of pudding heads. It is all a plain case of demgoguery against statesmanship.

THEIR MAN HUGHES

Great idustries in this country which have declared enormous dividends the past year, some of them having earned 50 per cent. on their capital stock, are howling for a protective tariff. What do they want it for? They certainly don't need it. The people need a great deal more than all the special interests of this country do. How many tariff beneficiaries have you ever seen figuring on how to make both ends meet?

Turn over to the market page of The Star every now and then and you will see a list of the securities that Wall Street is gambling in from one week's end to another. If Hughes should be elected president, watch the prices in the list shoot up and add millions next day to the billions represented in those stocks and bonds. If you don't believe it, all you have to do is to watch that increase. The stimulus of it would be the surety of a protective tariff that would further increase the wealth of the millionaire class which gives its banquets to Hughes and Roosevelt and Taft. They are very greatly interested in those Republican leaders because it means business—increased wealth while you wait, for the already enormously wealthy class.

If the returns on the 7th of November should indicate a Republican triumph over Democratic achievement for the people, Wall Street would get excited and the whole list of stocks would jump upward in price like wildfire. When those prices shoot upward, the people can calculate the millions that those stock nabobs will get out of the people. The source from which their money will come will be the pockets of the American people, who will pay the extra tariff taxes that will be wrung from them for the benefit of the nabobs. Protective tariff laws make the people their assets, and it is a fine game—so fine that we are surprised that some of the people haven't caught on yet. They have been persuaded that it is a national duty that they owe to so-called American industries, and some of the people actually swell up with pride that they are doing something great for America when they vote for a monstrous protective tariff. They are doing something great for Wall Street, and the Street does as little for America as it can. It kicks against paying income taxes to help bear the government's expenses, but it takes great pleasure in subscribing millions to the Republican campaign fund. Wall Street opposes taxes on incomes for the benefit of the government, but their game is to get the government to tax the people for their benefit and also put the burden on the people for the support of the government. If that isn't their game, it surely is a fact that they would be wasting time on their fight for a protective tariff and be worrying themselves for nothing in their efforts to finance and secure Republican success.

The nabobs are not supporting Hughes and Republicanism for fun. If they did not know they would get a great big pile of something for nothing, they would be very mildly interested in whether Hughes or Wilson should win. Don't you forget it—Hughes' election would make Wall Street's wealth grow just like the sun and rain as surely make the grass in the cotton fields grow. We often wonder why people way down here in North Carolina talk protective tariff and are willing to be the goats to pile up wealth for special interests. Isn't it a wonder to you? If not, why not?

Well, the nabobs don't need any tariff graft, but they want it as intensely as we want something for ourselves and our families to eat. Oh, they will manage to get along whether you do or not, and whether you are willing to tax yourself for them or not. They have flourished since the Democrats have been in power, but they would flourish more with the Republicans in power. They have piled up enormous wealth during the war in Europe. How much have you piled up to help them get rich if their man Hughes should be elected?

THE TRAGEDY OF ARMENIA

The world stands aghast at the civilization of 1916. We boast vainly in the face of the monstrous war that is ravishing practically all of Europe. The fate of Belgium shocked us, the humiliation and degradation of Greece startled us, and yet the real horror accompanying the maelstrom in which civilization has been caught is the atrocious treatment of the Armenians by the Turks. The details are too sickening to repeat, but if half the reports of massacre, murder, bestiality and hellish fiendishness are true there is enough to almost make the Christian world mad with pity.

In our own country we seem to have been constrained to go into a state of hysteria over the mere baubles of our domestic affairs while other nations are being overwhelmed by monstrous tides of human blood. The destiny of nations hangs over a fiery furnace and they tremble over the very pit of destruction. Aye, more! Humanity is frantic with its wails and overwhelmed with horror and the peoples who are the victims of the besom of destruction cry aloud to America. In the midst of woe and death and annihilation the wild despair of souls comes to us in heart-rending volume from the maddening maelstrom and the destroying vortex of Armageddon.

The last word in horror is Armenia and Syria. The blood of Christian martyrs by the thousands appeals to us in the silence of their awful fate. The survivors are living amidst horror, starvation, debauchery, ruin and death. They appeal directly to Christian America for relief. They would welcome succor but that would be a vain hope, so the cry from desolate and despairing Armenia is for relief. The mails bring The Star a flood of appeals from various relief associations. They beg for aid for war sufferers in Belgium and Poland. We are asked to make an appeal for the starving people of Albania. Syria appeals in woe and want, and Armenia, despairing amidst cruelty, starvation and extermination by fire and sword and horrible barbarities, plaints out the enormous distress of a people that are being destroyed from the face of the earth.

Are we too callous in the midst of our puny and selfish bickerings as a people to lend an ear to humanity's pitiful appeals and to lend a helping hand for the relief of the sore necessities of human beings anywhere in God's creation?

The appeal made in The Star yesterday by the Ministerial Association of Wilmington ought to arouse the sympathy and secure the substantial co-operation of the fortunate people of our blessed country. It is the severest test to which our Christianity has ever been put. Shall we turn a deaf ear to the lamentations of distressed peoples and turn our faces away from the Almighty God who is watching us stand the test—whether we shall do our duty worthily or whether we will fall down at the sacrifice of those in lands running red with blood and reeking with horror?

President Wilson himself has issued a proclamation calling attention to the dire extremities of the Armenians and Syrians and appealing to Christian America to hear their anguish. In accordance with plans made at a meeting of the Wilmington Ministers' Association held at the Y. M. C. A. collections for the Armenian relief fund will be taken today at all the churches. In addition to the church collections to be taken from those who attend, the Minister's Association appeals to people generally to come to the rescue with contributions for a cause that is not anly deserving but infinitely sacred.

The Republicans have no argument for a protective tariff, because this country does not need it. The war in Europe is all the protection that American industry needs. The war protects American industries for the reason that it shuts out foreign goods and enables our manufacturers to charge what they please for their manufactured products. They not only dominating the home market, but they have the greatest export trade in the history of the country. Protective tariff! For what? Nit. The people certainly are not going to burden themselves with tariff taxes when American industries are already flourishing on account of war protection. After the war? After the war has not come yet. Wait till after the war gets here.

CURRENT COMMENT.

There will be something doing in Jax next week—meetings of the Southeastern Live Stock Association, Florida State Live Stock Growers' Association, the opening of Armour's meat packing plant and the interstate stock yards, sales of blooded live stock, and the national rifle matches.—Bradentown (Fla.) "Hughes made it a point to make a special campaign for votes in the West, but we have to wait till the 7th of November before we can find out whether he could fool the West easier than he can fool the East."—Wilmington Star. The East is generally easier to fool.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Several days ago when Col. H. S. Leard, general passenger agent of the Norfolk Southern, and good friend of Kinston, was here to make final arrangements for handling the crowds expected next week for the second annual exhibit of the Kinston fair, he commented on the marked improvements that were constantly taking place hereabouts and complimented very highly the Kinston spirit. He had already been to several other fairs, large and small, this year and remarked that none of them would exceed Kinston's undertaking. Said he," You know, I haven't stopped talking about your first fair last year. It was a revelation to everybody who attended it, and the Kinston spirit which pushed forward and accomplished so successfully the big undertaking was truly remarkable and commendable." Col. Leard added that this year's fair was bound to be a big success. Said he, "Your prestige was established last year."—Kinston Free Press.

Wilmington is still talking her packing plant. We join in hoping that it may soon be secured for we believe that it will not only be for the betterment of Wilmington, but as has been pointed out before, will mean the betterment and enriching of this entire section of country.—Fairmont Messenger.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys, Wilmington residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Wilmington man's statement.

W. G. A. Otersen, 710 N. Third St., Wilmington, says: "My back caused me a great deal of misery and it was almost impossible for me to walk. My kidneys got so weak that I could hardly control the kidney secretions, especially at night. I felt so tired when I got up in the morning, that I could hardly drag myself around. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief, and when I had finished three boxes, my back was as sound as ever and my kidneys became normal."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mr. Otersen had. Foster-Milburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

WILSON FUND GROWING STEADILY AND SURELY

More Than Twenty-Five Contributions Added Yesterday.

Small Amount in the Main But Appreciated Nevertheless—One Business Firm Gives $25—Many Assurances Next Week.

There were more than twenty-five contributions yesterday to the Woodrow Wilson campaign fund and while nearly all of them were small, they were appreciated nevertheless by the several team captains who made report last night.

The largest contribution yesterday was that of J. W. Murchison & Co., the wholesale hardware merchants, who gave their check for $25 through the team of Cyrus D. Hogue, Esq., which led all for the day. A meeting of the executive committee of the Wilson Club was held yesterday evening at 6 o'clock in the office of Chairman W. A. McGirt, in the Masonic Temple, and ways and means were very generally discussed, while many assurances for the coming week were made. It is expected that team members will get down to "brass tacks" during the next few days and that the goal set by the club will be early attained.

With encouraging news from the Nation this morning in the New York Herald forecast, it is expected that there will be a genuine quickening of interest among Democrats everywhere and that this interest will be manifested in substantial contributions from everywhere. The committees have been unable to see but a few of those who will contribute so far and it is possible that as the time is short, there are many who will not be seen at all. To all such who may desire to contribute, a check to The Star will be thankfully received and will be promptly acknowledged. Many of the smaller towns in the eastern section of the State are making up amounts and sending them collectively. These will also be received with thanks and duly acknowledged. The list for this morning is as follows:

The regular fall convocation of the Co-Ordinate Bodies of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, sitting in the Valley of Wilmington, Orient of North Carolina, will be held in the Masonic Temple, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. An unusually large number of candidates is expected. A feature of the reunion will be an elaborate banquet to be served in Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Among the prominent visitors expected to attend the meeting will be Mr. David Preston Byers, honorary 33rd degree, of Charlotte, and Raymond C. Dunn, Esq., venerable master of Joseph Montford Lodge of Perfection, of Enfield.

On Tuesday, October 24th, Johnson Blakely Lodge of Perfection will confer the degrees from the fourth to the fourteenth, inclusive, and on Tuesday night Cape Fear Chapter Rose Croix will confer the degrees from the fifteenth to eighteenth, inclusive.

On Wednesday, October 25th, the Council of Kadosh will confer the degrees from the nineteenth to thirtieth inclusive. On Thursday night, October 26th, the thirty-first and thirty-second degrees will be conferred by the Wilmington Consistory.

GODWIN-M'CASKILL DEBATES IN BLADEN COUNTY THIS WEEK

Congressional Candidates of Sixth District Now on Last Lap.

Congressman H. L. Godwin and his Republican opponent, A. L. McCaskill, Esq., of Fayetteville, will begin their fifth week of joint debates Tuesday and will spend the week in Bladen county. They were in Columbus county last week and were greeted by large audiences.

The candidates will speak at White Oak Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and at Elizabethtown on Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock they will be at Clarkton and will speak at Bladenboro on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. They will speak at Tarheel Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Negro Drowned Yesterday.

James Carr, a negro boy employed at one of the docks across the Cape Fear river, lost his life in the river yesterday morning when he attempted to leap from the dock to a lighter. At a late hour last night the body had not been recovered, although some effort had been made to find it. The negro was said to have been in the discharge of his duty at the time of the accident.

MANDAMUS PROCEEDING DISMISSED BY JUDGE

Judge Connor Renders Brunswick School Tax Decision.

Taxes as Levied by Commissioners Are Held to be Sufficient to Maintain Schools—Board of Education Loses in Suit.

Judge Geo. W. Connor has dismissed the mandamus proceedings brought by the Board of Education against the Board of County Commissioners of Brunswick county at the cost of the Board of Education, according to information received here yesterday by Robert Ruark, Esq., of counsel for the Board of Education.

Judge Connor conducted a hearing of the proceedings at Southport about a week ago, and after hearing argument of counsel on both sides and a number of witnesses, reserved his decision, which has now been rendered in favor of the commissioners on virtually every point both as to law and to findings of fact. The commissioners were represented at the hearing by C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., of Southport, while Robert Ruark and Jos. W. Ruark, Esqs., appeared for the Board of Education. Announcement as to whether or not an appeal on the points of law involved will be taken has not been made by counsel for the Board of Education.

In view of the fact that the Board of County Commissioners is made up of Republicans, while a majority of the Board of Education are Democrats, the case aroused more interest than it would had it been between officials with the same party affiliations. The Democrats, it is reported, claimed that the Republicans were sacrificing the best interests of the schools of the county merely for the purpose of being able to say that the affairs of the county under their regime had been administered economically.

The findings of law and fact in the case of exhaustively reviewed by Judge Connor in his decision which covers several typewritten sheets. As a matter of fact, the decision holds that the special tax of five cents on the $100 valuation of property as levied by the commissioners is sufficient to carry on the work of the schools for the four months period in the various districts of the county without an additional levy on the polls, taking into consideration the other funds allowed under the statutes. These other funds, it is pointed out, include the regular $1.50 from every $2 poll tax which with fines, penalties and forfeitures goes to the support of the schools, and also the State per capita appropriation which for Brunswick county aggregates about $1,500.

The decision holds as a matter of law that the commissioners had the right to levy a tax of five cents on property without at the same time levying a sum treble that amount on the taxable polls of the county, providing the ratio is preserved up to the limit of $2 on the poll. The contention of counsel for the commissioners is thus upheld that the levy of a poll tax in excess of $2 is prohibited by the State constitution.

This point of law was exhaustively argued by counsel on both sides af the hearing and may form the basis for an appeal to a higher court, as several conflicting decisions by the State Supreme court were cited by counsel.

—United States District Attorney J. O. Carr and Clerk E. W. Stone will leave tomorrow morning for New Bern, where a term of Federal Court for the trial of criminal causes will be held beginning Tuesday, with Judge H. G. Connor, of Wilson, presiding.

TO AID STARVING CHRISTIANS

Contributions Taken up For Armenians and Syrians—Collections in Local Churches Today.

In response to the President's appeal for aid for the starving Syrians and Armenians in Turkey, nation-wide contributions were received yesterday. Today in nearly fifty thousand Sunday schools and churches throughout the United States, including those of Wilmington, collections will be taken for the same purpose.

Mrs. J. Boldt was in Wilmington yesterday in the interest of the Syrian-Mt. Lebanon Relief Committee, soliciting contributions. Mrs. Boldt has been authorized by this committee, which has its headquarters at No. 65 Broadway, New York, to aid in this great work of mercy and carried a letted of introduction from Mayor Parker Quince Moore, of this city. She is well known in Wilmington and is engaged in a worthy cause deserving in every way the interest nad substantial aid of the Christian people.

Mr. Henry Morgenthau, former United States ambassador to Turkey, estimates that it will take some $5,000,000 to relieve the actual starvation that a million Christians in Asia Minor are now facing. Several hundred thousand dollars of this money have already been contributed, but four million more must be raised within the next two or three weeks.

Every class and creed in the United States is aiding in this movement. Even in athletic circles contributions are being raised. A collection will be taken up at the Yale-Harvard football game, which will be played in the New Haven bowl, a stadium that seats some 70,000 people. A naval collier will rush food to the starving people on the eastern Mediterranean.

Syrian women are canvassing the financial district in New York, seeking aid for their starving countrymen and relatives. One of the most interesting and noble donations that have been given to this cause, came from a clergyman in Ohio, who gave half of his salary, $40, for six months. A wealthy man hearing of this, immediately gave his check for $25,000, although he had already given $18,000.

"Billy" Sunday, the celebrated baseball evangelist, endorsed an appeal for the sufferers, and offered to take up a collection for them in his big tabernacle in Detroit. This was the first time Mr. Sunday had ever endorsed an undertaking, it is claimed.

LUTHERANS WILL HOLD REFORMATION SERVICE

Special Programmes Sunday, October 29, at Both Churches Here.

Main Celebration Will be Deferred to Convention of Synod Here—Arrangements for 400th Anniversary Next Year.

The two Lutheran churches of Wilmington will hold special Reformation services Sunday morning and evening, October 29, although the main celebration in commemoration of the beginning of the great religious movement of the 16th century, so far as Wilmington is concerned, will be deferred until the convention of the United Synod, which will assemble at St. Paul's church here for a five-day session beginning November 9th. More than 200 delegates from all over the Southeastern states will be in attendance.

The special services at St. Paul's and St. Matthew's churches will include appropriate sermons by the pastors, Rev. F. B. Clausen and Rev. G. W. McClanahan, respectively. The music of the liturgy and anthems will be sung by large choirs. Services of this character are held by Lutheran churches everywhere annually in observation of the anniversary of the Reformation.

The birth of the Protestant church occurred October 21, 1517, when Martin Luther published the famous ninety-five theses on the church door at Wittenberg, and the American Lutheran church, as well as the Lutherans the world over, is preparing for a worthy celebration of the 400th anniversary.

Although this celebration will not be held until next year, in view of the importance of the event several large bodies of Lutherans, notably the United Synod in the South, the General Council and the General Synod are organized, through representatives into a national celebration committee, which will initiate activites and coordinates the efforts of the church in the various sections of the country.

The aim in this quadricentennial celebration is expressed in the slogan—To celebrate the Reformation of the Sixteenth century and to hasten the Transformation of the Twentieth. The principles that made the Reformation effective will be reviewed, restated, and applied to present day conditions. A careful survey of the church's needs have been made with a view of furnishing the required service, methods and funds.

The proposed jubilee fund, to be applied to church extension, missions and education, is $10,000,000. A portion of this has already been raised in anticipation of the festival year. The church's leaders consider the anniversary a strategic hour to enlarge the scope of work and increase its effectiveness.

The celebration year will begin with this year's Reformation service when addresses and special music by large choruses will be features of the programme. The character of the rallies will be anticipatory. Announcement will be made of the year's programme, which will be varied and planned to culminate in large jubilee gatherings in October of 1917. Features of the celebration will be study courses, Sunday school rallies, musical festivals, lecture series, and campaigns for raising a jubilee fund.

Car Strikes Automobile.

An automobile driven by George Howell, Esq., was struck by an incoming trolley car at Second and Princess streets, shortly after noon yesterday. The car was considerably damaged but Mr. Howell escaped uninjured.

COTTON IS STILL SOARING

Quotation on Wilmington Market Yesterday Was 17 7-8—Gain of One Cent Within a Week.

Spot cotton on the Wilmington market yesterday jumped into new high ground for the season as well as for many years past, the quotation being 17 7-8. This is a gain of one-eighth of a cent over Friday's quotation, and of one cent over that of Saturday a week ago. While the price here was soaring higher, advances were also being recorded in practically every other cotton market throughout the country. The upward trend of prices was effected principally by private ginning reports, based on cold weather damage which estimated the total yield this year at 11,400,000 bales. This is slightly less than the last government estimate. According to press reports received last night the crop in various portions of the belt has been badly damaged by frosts.

The New York spot quotation yesterday was 18.50 while the price at New Orleans was 17.69. This shows that the Wilmington quotation is considerably lower than the New York figure, although the price is much better than the offering at New Orleans.

Receipts here were comparatively light, the total for the day being 636 bales, aggregating 49,134 for the season. On the same day last year 1,654 bales were received, making a total for the season of 78,336. The spot quotation was 11 3-4c. These figures are based on the records kept at the Chamber of Commerce.

NEW MEMBERS FOR W. L. I.

Total Strength of Local Company Now Near 75—Hike Postponed.

Twenty-five new names have been enrolled on the muster of the W. L. I., thus bringing the total strength of the company up to about 75 men.

New outfits have been ordered from Raleigh to equip the new soldiers, as soon as possible. As the company is allowed the maximum peace strength of 109 men, a number of others may be secured to enlist.

On account of the recent rains, and the damp condition of the ground, the overnight hike, that was intended to have been held last night and today, has been postponed until some future date, probably next Saturday.

TWO IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Tract Near Fort Fisher Sold to John D. Bellamy, Jr., Trustee.

Maj. E. W. VanC. Lucas Sells Home on South Front Street to Recorder B. G. Empie—Other Deeds Filed for Record.

A tract of land near Fort Fisher Sea Beach containing 612 acres has been sold by the heirs of the late George W. Kidder to John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., who is acting as trustee for Wilmington interests, according to a deed filed for record yesterday. Negotiations for this property have been in progress for a year or more but the deal was not closed until recently. The consideration named in the deed was $4,000.

Mr. Bellamy said yesterday afternoon that so far as he knew there are no plans for the development of this property which lies in the extreme southern part of New Hanover county, south of several other developments in that section, and lying between the Cape Fear river and the Atlantic ocean. While it has been rumored that possibly another beach development might be started there, this has not been confirmed, and, according to Mr. Bellamy, nothing of the kind is now contemplated.

Maj. E. W. VanC. Lucas, formerly of Wilmington, now of New York, has sold the home formerly owned and occupied by him at No. 315 South Front street, to Recorder Brooke G. Empie. The consideration was $8,500, according to the deed filed for record yesterday. Recorder Empie and his family will occupy the residence at an early date and will make an apartment house of his former home at No. 308 South Second street. The sale of this property was made through the real estate agency of J. G. Wright & Son.

Other deeds filed for record yesterday were: C. B. Parmele to George B. Applewhite, for $100 and other considerations, lot on the east side of Jasamine street, 132 feet south of Orange, 33x70 feet in size; Hanover Trust Company to C. B. Parmele, for $10 and other considerations, lot on the west side of 12th, 132 feet south of Orange, 33x150 feet in size; C. B. Parmele to W. W. Storm and wife, for $100 and other considerations, lot at Wrightsville Beach; W. B. Matthews and Mrs. E. S. Matthews to C. B. Parmele, for $550, lot on Wrightsville Beach Extension.

PLAY-TO-PURPOSE SCHOOL

Young Children are Taught Arithmetic Through Games.

The results accomplished by the play-to-a-purpose primary school at the Cape Fear apartments has attracted much favorable comment from patrons. The children varying in age from three to six years are taught through games. They find much delight in playing dominoes, adding and subtracting marbles, dividing apples in fractions, measuring pints and quarts of sand and in this way they learn arithmetic.

Through story telling and dramatization their interest is so aroused that they are eager to read for themselves. The typewriter is a great aid in teaching reading as well as spelling, punctuation and capitalization.

History and geography are taught principally through songs, each child locating on a globe the place mentioned. Eurythmics and physical training are emphasized. These lessons are given in the yard when the weather permits. The method of teaching writing through drawing is that used by Montessori at Columbia.

The creative instinct is developed by means of clay modeling. Miss Atha Hicks, the director of this school, has studied art under William Chase and taught this subject in the schools of Roanoke, Va. Miss Marie Plowden, who has charge of the music, has taught this subject successfully for some years and has made a specialty of this work for little children. Madam Hatchell, a Parisian, teaches French through the conversational method. The school is open from 9:30 to 12 and visitors are always welcomed.

PACKING COMPANY DIRECTORS WILL MEET HERE TUESDAY

Meeting Has Been Set for 11 O'clock at Chamber of Commerce.

According to an announcement made yesterday by Mr. W. W. Love, president of the Carolina Packing Company, the meeting of the directors of the concern will be held Tuesday at 11 a. m. in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, and preliminary plans for erection of the proposed $100,000 packing plant will be submitted for consideration.

For the past week or more members of the stock subscription committee, of which Mr. Milton Calder is chairman, have been busy obtaining subscriptions to the capital stock of the concern. The report of this committee will probably be made at the meeting Tuesday.

COLORED TEACHERS OF CITY HAVE FORMED ASSOCIATION

Will Extend Benefits of Summer School Work to Local Teachers.

At a recent meeting of the colored teachers of the city held at the Williston Industrial School, an Association was formed and officers elected. The object of the association, according to Supt. J. J. Blair, who attended the meeting of the teachers, is for the purpose of giving demonstration work in teaching methods.

Some 15 of the local teachers attended summer school this summer and received valuable training at Hampton Institute and other institutions, and it is the plan of the association to give the other teachers of the various colored schools of the city the benefit of the instruction received there, by means of demonstration work.

NOT SERIOUSLY HURT.

Mr. Alex S. Yeager in No Danger from Glass Cut on Wrist.

The friends of Mr. Alex S. Yeager, the Castle street merchant, will be pleased to learn that he is suffering no ill effects from the wound received Friday while lowering a window. In some manner the glass broke and fell edgewise across his right wrist, cutting a gash that necessitated the taking of several stitches.

Clinton Democrat: "Taking their friends completely by surprise, Mr. Lewis E. Wakefield and Miss Sudie Moseley Kerr were married at the home of the bride on Tuesday evening of the past week. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. James Thomas, pastor of both bride and groom, was attended only by the members of the immediate family and one or two friends. There were no attendants at all, it being the wish of the couple to do away entirely with the accustomed frills of the wedding. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield took an automobile, going to Warsaw and catching the train for Black Mountain, where most of their honeymoon will be spent. The two parties to this romance are very popular in Clinton. Mr. Whitfield, son of the late V. A. Whitfield and Mrs. Whitfield, has always made his home in the county. He has been a student of the University at different times and has attained a large success as a civil engineer. Mrs. Whitfield is a young lady of unusual charm, the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. John D. Kerr, of Clinton. No doubt a number of social affairs will be given for this couple upon their return to Clinton."

DELIGHTFUL DANCE GIVEN BY THE YOUNG MEN OF WALLACE

Wallace, N. C., Oct. 21.—One of the most delightful affairs ever held in this section, was the dance given last night by the young men of Wallace, complimentary to visiting young ladies. Everyone present voted the ball the best ever held around here, and with a good floor, excellent music, pretty girls and handsome young men, joy reigned supreme from 9 p. m. till 2 A. M.

Music was furnished for this occasion by the well known Whitlock-West orchestra, from Wilmington, and to say they gave satisfaction would be putting it mildly. Among the out-of-town guests at the ball were Misses Lila Croom, Sue J. and Gladys Myers, Lucille Magette, Lucy Plunkett, Blanche, Maud and Elizabeth Paddison, Annie Fay Keith, Ruth Bizzell, Margaret McNeill, and Sallie Johnson, of Burgaw; Miss Ella Mallard, of Kenansville; Miss Virginia Addington, of Norfolk, Va., and Messrs. Charles Johnson, Henry Johnson, Halley Sidbury, Neil Moore, Robert G. Johnston and Wyatt Blake of Burgaw; Mr. Chas. Jerome, of Rose Hill, and Mr. George Clark, of Wilmington.

WALLACE NEWS NOTES OF INTEREST IN SOCIAL REALM

Wallace, N. C., Oct. 21.—The "tacky" party at the home of Mrs. J. S. Westbrook Thursday night, under the auspices of the Woman's Club, was largely attended in spite of the inclement weather, and was a most enjoyable affair. After the guests had gathered, clad in all sorts of styles and fashions, a grand promenade was held around the porches which surround the house in order to aid the judges in making their decision in awarding the prize. Mrs. James A. Cavanaugh was adjudged the winner, as her costume seemed the most appreciated. Refreshments suitable for the occasion were served. The affair was arranged under the supervision of the Ways and Means Committee of the club, consisting of Misses Anna Clement, Charlie Westbrook, Mary Lillie Hursey and Mrs. W. L. Byrd. A nice sum was realized.

FISHING SCHOONER COMING

Government Vessel to Make an Investigation of Fishing Banks—Will Arrive This Week.

Mr. E. H. Freeman, of Wilmington, a member of the State Fisheries Board, has received a letter from Dr. H. F. Moore, deputy commissioner of fisheries of the United States government, stating that pursuant to a request made by the former last spring, the fishing schooner, "Grampus," will arrive in Wilmington this week to begin an investigation of the fishing banks off the coasts of North and South Carolina in this vicinity.

Dr. Moore attended the annual meeting of the National Fisheries Association in Wilmington last spring and at that time, Mr. Freeman pointed out the need of expert investigation of the fishing banks in this vicinity. Dr. Moore suggested that Mr. Freeman should accompany the schooner on its trip of investigation. However, the latter will be unable to go but has secured a competent man to take his place.

Mr. Freeman is confident that there are extensive scallop beds off this coast as there are many scallop shells washed up by the tides and while here the government vessel will endeavor to locate them. The scallop beds in the vicinity of Beaufort and Morehead City have proven the source of considerable revenue to the fishermen, more than $100,000 worth having been sold in the North last year.

Mr. Freeman also believes that there are clam beds lying off the coast that have not yet been discovered as the fishermen engaged in trolling for shrimp at Southport have brought in many clams. This will also be looked into. The clam beds which are now utilized by the fishermen in this section are found for the most part in the sounds.

The main purpose of the visit of the Grampus, however, will be to locate the fishing banks or rocks where the fish feed and to erect buoys, so that they may be easily located. Mr. Freeman states that these banks can now be located on a clear day but it is next to impossible for fishermen to find them when it is cloudy. However, with buoys placed on them, it will be no trouble to find them at any time.

The Grampus will arrive here this week and will spend several weeks off the coast or as long as may be absolutely necessary.

These government fishing schooners, of which there are now three, have been the means of finding many fishing banks off the coasts of Massachusetts, New Jersey and other states along the Atlantic Coast, Mr. Freeman states, and he is confident that the same is true of the North Carolina coast.

LOCAL DOTS.

MISS LOUISE MANNING HUSKE BRIDE OF DR. WM. S. JORDAN

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 21.—Of Statewide interest was the wedding of Dr. William S. Jordan and Miss Louise Manning Huske, both of this city, which was solemnized at St. John's Episcopal church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Archer Booger, the rector, officiating.

Simplicity was the keynote of the interesting marriage. Ferns and palms were used around the church rail and near the altar, where the glow of the candles, amid the green and white, made a beautiful setting. Here the vows were spoken. Many friends and relatives assembled to witness the plighting of the troth of these two prominent young people of the city. Mrs. S. A. Lambert presided at the organ and rendered several selections. The vested choir made their entrance singing "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," and to the strains of the wedding march, the ushers entered. They were Mr. John Manning Huske and Lieut. A. A. MacKethan, Mr. Albert Stewart and Mr. A. D. McKenzie, of Rowland.

They were followed by the maid of honor, the bride's sister, Miss Eleanor Huske, attired in white tulle over satin, with picture hat, and carrying Killarney roses. The bride entered on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. Her bridal robe was an elegant creation of white tulle over duchess satin, with court train. She wore a bridal veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The groom entered from the vestry with his brother, Lieut. L. LaF. Jordan, U. S. N., Annapolis, Md. The impressive ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Archer Boogher. The bride is a beautiful young woman of bright intellect, culture and charming personality. The groom takes a high stand in his chosen profession and in the social and business life of the community. Both have hosts of friends throughout the city and State.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Haymount, to which only relatives and a few intimate friends were invited, where congratulations and good wishes were showered on the happy bride and groom, before their departure for a wedding tour.

Many handsome wedding gifts were received, evincing the high esteem in which the popular couple is held.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lewis, of Oxford, the latter a sister of the bride; Mr. John Manning Huske, of Charlotte, brother of the bride; Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Jordan, parents of the groom; Miss Julia Jordan and Master Dixon Jordan, sister and brother of the groom, of Raleigh; Lieut. L. LaF. Jordan, Annapolis, Md., brother of the groom; Mrs. Louis Z. Sutton, of Raleigh; Miss May Michaux, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. A. D. McKenzie, of Rowland.

WARSAW NEWS NOTES OF INTEREST IN SOCIAL REALM

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 21.—The Children's Chapter, Daughters of Confederacy, held a very interesting and instructive meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Best on last Friday afternoon, when their daughter, Lois, was hostess to the chapter. The guests were entertained on the spacious verandah, which was attractively arranged for the occasion, vases of scarlet salvia forming the floral decoration. In addition to the monthly historical program, a very enjoyable supplementary programme was prepared by the programme committee. This consisted of a chorus by the chapter, a vocal duet by Misses Evelyn Anderson and Martha Best, a splendidly written paper by Miss Martha Gresham, giving the war record of her grandfather, Capt. S. A. Johnson; a quartette by Misses Cora Holland, Julia Ricks, Annie Lee Adkins and Elizabeth Anderson, a paper by Miss Evelyn Anderson. Miss Fannie Monroe was pianist. After the exercises tea and sandwiches were served by the young hostess, assisted by little Miss Sallie Faison Best.

Mrs. W. L. Hill entertained the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church at her home Tuesday afternoon. A feature of the meeting was a lingerie shower for the bazaar which the society will hold in the near future, many dainty garments being contributed by those present. Cullabub and waifers were served by the hostess.

The literary department of the Woman's Club held its first meeting of the fall season at the home of the chairman, Mrs. W. L. Hill, on Wednesday afternoon, which marked the beginning of another year's work in the club work. The subject for discussion was "Indian Life in America." Indian art was discussed by Miss Bettie Cox, and "Indian Education" by Mrs. Chas. Carroll. Mrs. Hill read a very charming poem, "Each in His Own Tongue." It was decided to support the Piedmont Lyceum Course, the first attraction of which will appear here next Tuesday night. The club had a very attractive visitor in Miss Georgia Hicks, of Faison. It was decided to obtain a number of the cards, which Miss Hicks, while State historian, U. D. D., prepared, entitled, "What North Carolina May Claim." At the close of the meeting Mrs. Hill served a very enjoyable salad course.

Mrs. Clarence Hines, of Kinston, visited her sisters, Mesdames W. D. Thomas and H. L. Boyette, at the Thomas Hotel last week.

Dr. John A. Farrell, of New York, U. S. division superintendent of the Rockefeller hook-worm commission, was here a few days last week.

NEWS NOTES FROM CLARKTON OF GENERAL SOCIAL INTEREST

Clarkton, N. C., Oct. 21.—Mrs. G. H. Currie was the very charming hostess to the Civic League on Thursday afternoon at her elegant home on North College street. For some time the league has been considering the plan of securing the services of a community nurse. After a lengthy discussion it was decided to drop the matter for a time. The league voted to appropriate the sum of $25.00 for street lights. It was also decided to assist in painting the school building. After some discussion it was unanimously decided to federate with the Woman's Club. A delightful salad course was served by Mrs. Currie assisted by Mrs. O. L. Clark and little Miss Ida Currie.

Messrs. G. H. Currie and O. L. Clark are attending the State Fair this week.

Quite a number from here went up to Lumberton Tuesday to attend the Buffalo Bill shows.

Rev. W. H. Goodman is conducting a meeting at Harmony church this week.

Miss H. A. Johnston, of Rowland, is spending a few days with her father, Mr. J. M. Johnston.

Messrs. Ed. Anders, Lewis and P. S. porter, of Kelly, spent Monday night in town with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Register, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hester, Rev. J. D. Howell, and Messrs. H. L. Helms and Warren Gooden attended the Bladen and Columbus Association at Mt. Tabor this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Harrington, Dr. E. S. Clark, Messrs. O. L. Clark and M. C. Stegall were in Wilmington a day or two this week.

An unusually large crowd was present at the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening. Mr. J. A. Wooten was leader and the topic, "Public Spirit and How to Cultivate It," was discussed by several of the members. Miss Isabel Cromartie, who represented this society at the District Convention at Wallace gave a very interesting report of the convention. The committee appointed at the last business meeting to consider the advisability of organizing a Junior Endeavor Society made a favorable report advising that such an organization be effected. The society voted to organize and a committee was appointed to canvass the community for members and to select a leader. Three new members were enrolled.

The Ladies' Missionary Society held its regular meeting at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. As the Woman's Auxiliary was scheduled to meet at 3:30, the session was necessarily short, only transacting some important business matters.

The meeting of the auxiliary was opened with a song, "The Morning Light is Breaking," after which devotional exercises were conducted by Prof. E. C. Shockley. Following this Professor Shockley made an excellent address on "Korea." Interesting papers on the topic were read by Miss Mary Singletary and Mrs. E. R. Meares. It was decided to have a six weeks course in Home Mission Study, the class to meet on Wednesday evenings at the church prior to the prayer meeting service. The committee in charge of sending a box of clothing to Mrs. Sloop at Crossnore reported that the box had been packed and was now awaiting shipment. Plans were discussed for Home Mission Week of Prayer to be held in November.

L. Best.

Mr. F. F. Loftin, teacher of the junior Baraca class of Coshoma Sunday school, gave a wagon ride for his pupils on a recent afternoon. A large party of young persons enjoyed the event. A luncheon was served by the host and a movie show visited.

The Booklovers wer eentertained on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. D. S. Barrus.

Members of A. M. Waddell Chapter, U. D. C., were guests of Mrs. James F. Parrott Thursday afternoon. The chapter will be the host to the State Daughters of the Confederacy at their 1917 convention.

Mr. Thos. Sumrell, of this city, and Mrs. Sallie Thomas, of Fayetteville, were married in the home of Rev. B. F. Smith, pastor of Gordon Street Christian church, Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Mr. Smith. Only a few persons witnessed it. Following the wedding a reception was tendered the couple by friends.

Local society turned out in force tonight for the first opera of the season—De Koven's "Robin Hood," sung by a company of real talent. The attraction was of a higher class than cities of the size are accustomed to getting. A number of out-of-town visitors were in the audience. "The Serenade" is to be heard Monday night.

Spending their honeymoon in the north are Mr. Clary Stroud, a prominent young business man of this city, and his bride, who was Miss Annie Johnson, of Goldsboro. The wedding took place in St. John's Methodist church at Goldsboro, a few days ago, and was witnessed by quite a number of friends from this city. The bridegroom is well known. Mrs. Stroud has visited here a number of times, and is an attractive and accomplished young woman.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

BIGGER DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY IN ROBESON

Godwin-McCaskill Debate in the County "Did the Work."

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Townsend Bereaved—Residence Robbed on Circus Day—Old Light Rate Restored—Damage Suit Imminent.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 21.—As the time draws nearer it looks brighter and brighter for a bigger and bigger Democratic majority in this county. Not so much noise is being made but work is being done. While the county candidates are not enjoying their usual joint county canvass, Mr. Frank Gough, Robeson's next senator, and Mr. H. E. Stacy are stumping the county. They are not bothering the farmers during the day time, but are keeping them awake at night, first in one section and then in another.

Each and every Democrat wants to be on hand to vote and see that his Democratic neighbor does the same thing. Needn't worry about the Republicans, they'll be there. There is no question about Robeson giving a big majority, and the effort of a life time wants to be made to have the biggest majority in the history of the county. The Godwin-McCaskill joint debate in this county did the work, the Democrats have been growing every day since the debate began, and Godwin is stronger than ever before.

As everybody in all this section knows, the Buffalo Bill-101 Ranch Shows was here Tuesday. The weather was ideal and the crowd was here. While one man says there were not 2,500 people in town, another says there were at least 15,000 people. After having made a study of crowds for a good many years, we think a conservative estimate of the gathering was at least 10,000 people. They were here from this and adjoining counties and all races, from infants to old age, were to be seen everywhere. It was the most orderly crowd, number considered, that we ever saw. While two or three people, local, tanked up and wanted to get fresh, not a single arrest was made during the day or night. We had the pleasure of renewing the acquaintance of Buffalo Bill (Col. W. F. Cody), whom we first met 21 years ago this month. He is a jolly old man, and a Democrat of the old school. General Manager Arlington and other officials we met could not be excelled for cleverness. We did not see the show, but some liked it while others said there was nothing to it.

Daylight Robbery.

While members of the family were down town Tuesday looking at the circus parade, some person or persons entered the home of Mrs. Barrett, near the graded school, and made a successful search for money. Mrs. Barrett had a pocket book containing between $35.00 and $40.00 in a closet behind a dress, which was taken, and Mr. J. C. Bodenheimer, who rooms there, lost from his desk $17.50 in gold, a $1.00 bill which he found at Fairmont three years ago, and a dime he found about a year ago. The crime is not charged to visitors or strangers in town. Nothing but the money was taken.

The blows continue to fall and provisions continue to rise. Chicken gizzards are among the latest items to advance and we don't know whether President Wilson will be charged with the rise in gizzards or not.

Mr. Marvin Kornegay, of Mt. Olive, has taken a position in Mr. J. H. Wishart's grocery store, succeeding Mr. Enoch McConnel, who left the grocery store to go with the Wishart Company, wholesale grocers.

"The Girl He Couldn't Buy," which comes highly recommended, will be seen at the Opera House Saturday evening, October 28th. The management pride themselves on presenting only the brightest and cleanest of plays and in this, their latest offering, they seem to have struck the keynote of popular fancy. The Girl He Couldn't Buy" abounds in strong situations and laughable comedy, in fact, it is claimed to have more hearty laughs than a dozen musical comedies. A splendid acting company will present this new sensational success. Seats on sale at Pope's Wednesday.

Last Sunday morning at the railroad station a well dressed colored man walked up to The Star man and said, "I haven't seen you in 30 years, do you know me?" We easily recognized him. We were children together, though he was our senior by a few years. He was then, and we have reason to believe still is, one of the best colored people we ever knew. He grew up and went away, his profession being that of a teacher. He told us of a visit some years ago to Texas and had the good fortune of going into the section where the family of Mr. Alex Gunn resided. He said there was one white family from North Carolina that was surely glad to see a North Carolina negro, and especially one right from their old home.

Mr. Gunn and family moved from Lumberton to Texas about 1870. Old residents here who now remember "Sandy" Gunn recall with pleasure that he was one of the best Christian men that resided in this section in those days. The writer was in school with two sons of Mr. Gunn, Walter and Wade. The colored man referred to is Prof. Henry Pope, of Maxton, who grew up two miles east of Lumberton.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Bereaved.

The death of little Grace Townsend, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Townsend, which occurred Thursday evening at 7:45, caused much genuine regret in Lumberton. The little girl had not been enjoying good health for some time, and a few days ago she suffered an attack of diphtheria. She apparently recovered from that and though very weak was out again. Her mother had her down town Monday evening, Tuesday she was seized with pneumonia, Wednesday evening Dr. Wood was called from Wilmington to consult with Drs. Johnson and Thompson, who were treating the child. But all efforts were in vain, death claiming her at the hour named.

The funeral was conducted yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Dr. North, the family pastor, and the dear little one was laid to rest in Meadow Brook cemetery.

The resignation of Capt. J. P. Russell as superintendent of the V. & C. S. railroad is the source of much regret in this and other sections. Captain Russell will not be with that road after this month, the office of superintendent having been abolished. Auditor J. Q. Beckwith has been appointed assistant general manager and will perform the duties heretofore performed by the superintendent. Captain Russell has been in the railroad business since February, 1885, most of the time with the Atlantic Coast Line, where they make railroad men. He is one of the best in the country, and with his railroad knowledge, a gentleman of the highest type of Christian character, Captain Russell will continue to make Lumberton his home and will be general manager of the Lumberton Motor Car Company. Mr .Sandy McLeod, the present manager, has for some time been over-loaded and the company in securing the services of Captain Russell at the head of the business is to be congratulated. Only this week the services of another expert moulder had to be added to the foundry department.

The mayor and all the town commissioners held a meeting Thursday evening lasting from 7:30 to 11:20. The committee recently appointed at a citizens' meeting at the court house,, for the purpose of offering a remedy for what the citizens claimed exorbitant light rates, was present, and as such committee, representing the people, suggested that the board reestablish its former schedule of rates. This was done, the mayor requesting the clerk to record him as opposed to either rate as he did not consider either one just to all consumers.

Mr. Elmer McNeill has opened a fresh meat stand on the corner of Fifth and Elm streets, in the building recently occupied as a colored barber shop. Mr. McNeill says he knows what suits the people here as he has often served them in the past, and intends to offer nothing but first-class meats. Meat cutters are plentiful, but they are not cutting prices.

Unless something is done to the western approach to the iron bridge across Lumber river at Lumberton, somebody might just as well get ready to face a damage suit, because its coming. An attorney was asked yesterday who would be responsible for an accident there and he replied, "the township road trustees."

Mr. Jno. D. McAllister has severed his connection as salesman for the McAllister Hardware Company, and while we do not know his intentions for the future, we have an idea that while he is taking a vacation it would be the part of wisdom on the part of the 'possum family to be moving further away from the Lumberton section.

Dr. C. H. Durham in Town.

Rev. Chas. H. Durham, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of Lumberton, arrived here tonight and will preach at that church tomorrow morning and evening, filling the appointments of Rev. C. L. Greaves, who is assisting in a series of meetings at Gastonia. Rev. Mr. Durham is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Linkhaw, on Second street. This is his first visit here since giving up the pastorate of the church two years ago, and he will receive a hearty welcome by all, irrespective of denomination.

Parker a Lumberton Descendant

An attorney received a letter here this week from a lady residing in Mississippi asking for data regarding her ancestry. She is a descendant of Gen. John Willis, the founder of Lumberton, which event is said to have occurred in 1786. General Willis left Lumberton in 1802, going to Mississippi where he later died. The lady stated in her latter that John M. Parker, Progressive candidate for vice-president, a resident of New Orleans, is a direct descendant of General Willis.

Messrs. Bert Beasley and John Bullock, who went to the State Fair through the country, left Raleigh last night at 11:50 and arrived here this morning at 5:50, making the trip in exactly six hours.

The town has dispensed with the services of its sanitary officer during the winter months.

The condition of Mrs. Belle McMillan, who has been critically ill for several days, shows no signs of improvement and the physicians hold out little hope for her recovery.

Hon. T. W. Bickett, Democratic candidate for governor, will speak here Thursday night, the 26th. His opponent, Mr. Linney, will speak Tuesday at noon. W. S. W.

RELIEF TO BANKERS AS WELL AS FARMERS

National Farm Loan Associations to Cover North Carolina.

Loans Applied for by Associations in This State Now Amount to $405,325—Individual Applications Coming In.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 21.—Loans applied for by the National Farm Loan Associations organized in North Carolina now amount to $405,325. Individual applications for loans are beginning to come in as a result of the blank issued by the division of markets and rural organization.

Copies of this blank are furnished upon request. Eight thousand of these blanks (Form 100) and eleven thousand extension circulars 14 on the Federal Farm Loan act have already been distributed. Form 100 is used for filing an application for a loan by an individual farmer. Where as many as ten farmers wants loans amounting to $20,000 the blank attached to circular 14 is used. The loans applied for run all the way from $100 to $10,000. Most of the loans desired are for over a thousand dollars. The land offered as security is generally more than is required, in one case amounting to $50,000.

From the character of the applications made it is clear that some of the most substantial farmers in the State desire to borrow money under the Federal act. The needs for new capital are great. The satisfaction of these needs is going to bring a new prosperity to agriculture.

The bankers interviewed are pleased to see farmers organibe to secure loans under government regulation. Banks are unable to tie up their funds in long time loans. They have had to refuse loans to substantial farmers and run the risk of making enemies. Now they may recommend that a farmer borrow through a National Farm Loan Association.

The following meetings to help farmers organize National Farm Loan Associations have been held by the Division of Markets and Rural Organization this week: Pinnacle, Stokes county, October 19th, at 8 p. m.; Rusk, Surry county, October 19th, at 2 p. m.; Ashton, Pender county, October 19th, at 8 p. m.; Rose Hill, Ruplin county, October 19th, at 10:30 a. m.; Madison, Rockingham county, October 20th, at 4 p. m.; Sanford, Lee county, October 21st at 10:30 a. m., and Creedmoor, Granville county, October 21st, at 1 p. m.

The plan followed in these meetings is to explain to farmers the advantages of borrowing under the new Federal Farm Loan act. These advantages are: (1) The development of co-operation through the formation of National Farm Loan Associations; (2) A low rate of interest not to be more than 6 per cent; (3) Long time loans, which may be made for purchasing land, improving land and paying off mortgages, and (4) easy terms of payment in small yearly dues.

A thousand dollar loan may be had for twenty years is desired. The payments would be $80.24 each year, or 6 per cent for interest and 2 per cent for payment on loan. At this rate of payment the loan would all be paid in twenty years. If the thousand dollars were paid in ten or five years, as is allowed by law, the amount due each year to pay off the debt would be twice or four times as large.

After the advantages of the new law are stated farmers are given a chance to state the amount of loans they wish to borrow. An organization committee then may be appointed to consider new applicants for loans and to nominate a temporary board of directors and a loan committee who should be voted upon as soon as a meeting of those who are to become members can be secured.

All interested in organizing a National Farm Loan Association or in applying for a loan should write to Wm. R. Camp, superintendent of Credit Unions, West Raleigh, N. C.

ARBOR DAY NEAR.

Some Delay in the Distribution of New Handbooks This Year.

Arbor Day is now not quite two weeks off. Special efforts have been made to have this day appropriately celebrated all over the State, and it is hoped that all the schools will observe it in some form or other.

The State Geological and Economic Survey have prepared a new "Arbor and Bird Day Manual," at the special request of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, but it has been delayed in printing and will be too late to be of any material assistance to many teachers before it can be distributed.

No announcements have as yet been made as to the celebration that will probably be arranged by the local schools.

LOCAL ALLIANCE WILL GIVE RECEPTION TO DR. BERKEMEYER

Distinguished Visitor to Speak at Germania Hall October 31.

The Wilmington branch of the German-American Alliance is planning a reception in honor of Rev. Dr. Berkemeyer, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., at Germania Hall on the occasion of his visit to this city on Tuesday, October 31st. The hour set for the reception is 8 P. M.

Dr. Berkemeyer, through his great efforts in behalf of the German Red Cross, has become a National figure. He will address the members of the Alliance on the subject of "Citizenship."

Elaborate preparations for the reception of the distinguished visitor are being made by a special committee composed of the following: Rev. F. B. Clausen, chairman; Messrs. H. E. Bonitz, Fred Banck, John Doscher, Jr., C. Jurgensen and W. B. Schuler.

Contribute to the Wilson Campaign Fund today and get it off your mind. You will feel better.

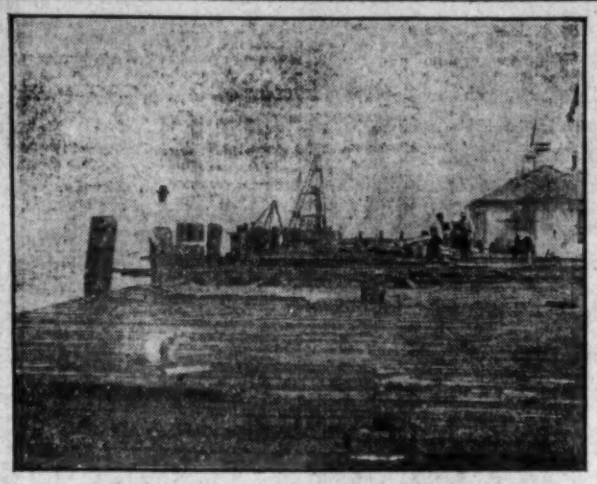
VIEWS OF NEW U. S. QUARANTINE STATION FOR PORT OF WILMINGTON NOW COMPLETED



(By C. L. Stevens.)

Southport, N. C., Oct. 21.—Previous to 1895, a visitor arriving here via the boat from Wilmington, might have noted in passing, when a mile or two above Southport, one to four or five schooners, or perhaps a "tramp" steamer, swinging at anchor, with a yellow emblem flying in the rigging, a beware sign for every one to keep away. To the person knowing what the yellow betokened, it was all sufficient. It was the sign of possible disease, may be plague, and the vessel so flying the yellow was given all possible room.

Close quarters for the crew quarantined in those days, confined to the ship, not hearing anything, seeing vessels passing at some distance, and not knowing whether the stay at quarantine was to be hourse, days or weeks.

In this year of 1916 the quarantine of the port of Wilmington is vastly changed, the change dating from the middle 90's, when the service was turned over by the state of North Carolina, to the national government.

Today the visitor coming to Southport, via the Cape Fear river, when a mile and one-eighth above this city, notes a group of buildings, attractive to the eye, with flags flying from several of them, the yellow among them, and a huge foreign steamship tied to the 360 wharf, at quarantine. If at night the place will be ablaze with electric lights, and the crew instead of being in close, confined quarters aboard ship, can find relaxation on the long, broad wharf. There is no indefinite stay for steamship and crew, today, for the station has the latest approved methods for dealing with infected shipping, which means a speedy attention in determining the case of infection, and quickly applying the remedy.

When the national government took over the quarantine of the port of Wilmington, in 1895, its first work was in determining a location for the proposed station. A survey from Bald Head to Deep Water Point, above Southport, was made, and the present situation on the east bank of the Cape Fear river channel, one and one-eighth miles abov ethis city, was selected. Water surrounds the station, as located. The first work done was the construction of a fumigating plant and a small hospital building, these being on the wharf and pilings at that time, and as they are today, the foundation for the station.

The demands for a wharf frontage have been increased as the character of the shipping has changed, from the schooner to the large and larger class of steamship. Also, there was a demand for more quarters for handling quarantine cases. To the first buildings were added detention barracks for sailors, who were placed there from ships at quarantine; a hospital for contagious cases, and quarters for attendants, for there are always attendants at the station.

To further increase the efficiency at this Quarantine Station, the government asked, about a year ago, for bids for a new wharf and the installation of an electric light plant. The contract for the first was awarded to A. J. Robbins, of Southport, and the electric plant contract went to the Carroll Electric Company, of Washington, D. C.

Work on these contracts is now practically completed. The wharf, with a frontage of 360 feet, with water for steamers of 28 feet draught, is the strongest and most complete of any in this State. Not only are the pilings creosoted, but the superstructure, floorings, etc., are heavily creosoted. This creosoting was done at Norfolk, under the direct supervision of Mr. J. E. Langley, who is supervising the entire construction of the work being done at the station. Mr. Langley is supervising architect in the U. S. Treasury Department.

Vessels arriving and calling for inspection are easily cared for. The fumigating treatment is as the case demands, the sulphur pots placed below, or between decks; or the vessel may receive the sulphur or fumigating treatment, from the plant, this being the blow in by steam pressure, that reaches every inch and corner of a vessel. Three vessels may be thoroughly treated in 24 hours. Five men are at present on duty at the station, besides Mr. J. Berg, whose official designation of "clerk" does not by any means indicate the various duties that require his careful attention and intelligent action, all receiving quick treatment or settlement, as needed. Dr. J. Arthur Dosher, is at present Acting U. S. Q. officer, and is well equipped for the service.

The station, as a whole, covers about four acres in its area, and in its equipment and service is up to all modern requirements for the care of cases, however violent the disease, that may come from other ports. It is a fitting supplement to meet the maritime interests of the port of Wilmington, to serve the increasing commercial demands that must arise from foreign ports, when trade conditions become again normal, once a world peace prevails instead of a world war.

How to Be Rid of Disgusting Dandruff

The only way to be permanently rid of disgusting, untidy dandruff is to correct its cause. Shampooing merely cleanses the scalp for a few days, then the scales form again as thick as ever.

To destroy the dandruff germ and get rid of dandruff for good, part the hair and apply a little of the genuine Parisian Sage directly on the bare scalp, and rub it in with the finger tips for a few minutes until absorbed by the scalp. You will surely be amazed at the result of even one application, for your hair and scalp will look and feel 100 per cent. better.

Only a few days' massage with Parisian Sage are needed to destroy the germs that cause the dandruff to form. The scalp becomes healthy, the hair will grow better and show more life and vitality, and you need never be troubled by dandruff again. Faded, dull or lifeless hair is quickly restored to beauty by this simple process, which is absolutely harmless, and will not stain the hair or make it greasy.

Parisian Sage can be obtained from R. R. Bellamy, and druggists everywhere. It is not expensive.

SCARLET FEVER IN STATE

Prevalent in Many Sections—Danger of Contagion.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 21.—Many schools in different sections of the State have been forced to suspend work on account of the appearance of scarlet fever in severe form, the State Board of Health announces.

There were nearly twice as many deaths in 1915 from this disease in North Carolina as from infantile paralysis—that is, reported cases. The great majority of fatalities from scarlet fever are reported as nephitis (Bright's

"Scarlet fever is always serious," says the State Board. "Even when a little patient recovers from an attack of the disease itself, the complications which often follow may cause lasting damage to different parts of the body. Some of the worst forms of deafness result from an attack of scarlet fever. Many serious cases of heart disease result directly from an attack of scarlet fever. The kidney complications are frequent and, besides doing permanent damage, cause death in a large percentage of cases.

"Every case of scarlet fever is evidence of negligence on the part of someone in caring for a previous case, because the only known source of the disease is a scarlet fever patient, from whom the germ passes in some way and again sets up an attack in a susceptible person."

SPEECH HAD NO BEARING ON THE SUFFRAGE ISSUE

O. Max Gardner's Tribute to Womanhood Misinterpreted.

State Fair Closes With Marshals' Ball. Travis Back From West Says Conditions Are Promising for Wilson.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 21.—It develops that a number of newspaper reports of Mr. O. Max Gardner's speech Monday night misinterpreted his tribute to North Carolina womanhood as having any bearing on the issue of equal suffrage. Without Mr. Gardner having any knowledge of their action, the management of the meeting had present by special invitation students from the colleges for women here, the leaders of the suffragist movement in Raleigh and Mrs. Platt, president of the State Equal Suffrage League.

In this presence Mr. Gardner made special reference to the presence of the ladies and the text of his speech shows the following tribute as representing all that he said in reference to women:

"Mr. Chairman, I desire to congratulate you upon your wonderful success in securing the attendance of so many magnificent women at this significant meeting. I believe in woman. There has never been a time in the history of this country when women should be more vitally interested in the political destiny of America than in this campaign for the re-election of President Wilson. I believe it was Ruskin who said he thanked God for his mother as for no other gift within his bestowing and that no man ever lived a right life who was not chastened by a woman's love, strengthened by a woman's courage and fortified by a woman's devotion.

"In the shadows of defeat, sunshine of victory, darkness or reconstruction and in the campaign of white supremacy the women of North Carolina stood shoulder to shoulder with the great Democratic party as it struggled for the uplift of our dear mother state. Women have always led in every movement for the betterment of the social, educational and moral development of North Carolina."

The 56th annual State Fair closed last night with the marshals' ball, which was a fitting climax for a round of social events that have characterized the fair week, including brilliant dances at the Raleigh Country Club, the Capital Club and other events. Friday was an exceptionally good final day for the fair. The crowds were probably larger than those out on Wednesday, which was a record breaker for Wednesdays of fair week. The financial success of the fair has proven greater than that scored last year in spite of the heavy rains Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

The final grand parade of the cattle and stock on exhibition at the fair took place Friday afternoon and was reviewed by an immense crowd, the affair proving a remarkable demonstration of possibilities and progress in North Carolina in these lines of agricultural activity. The blue ribbons, too, were noticeable on those animals which were strictly of North Carolina production and they were won in open competition with exhibits of the very finest cattle from the Northern and Western sections of the country.

The Commonwealth Hosiery Mills Co., of High Point, has received a charter from the State. The authorized capital stock is $125,000 and that subscribed $23,000. The incorporators are H. A. White, J. Elwood Cox, R. R. Ragan, A. M. Briggs, C. M. Hauser, J. H. Petty, E. A. Snow, W. P. Pickett and the High Point Buggy Co. The company will do a general knitting business, including hosiery and underwear.

Another charter is for the Nahanga Club (Inc.), of Warsaw, capital $10,000 authorized and $900 subscribed by H. F. Peirce and others for maintaining a pleasure club to include golf, tennis, fishing and other sports.

There was an amendment filed for the Sentinel Publishing Co., of Winston-Salem, whereby the capital is increased to $125,000 to keep pace with the growth of the plant and the volume of business this newspaper is doing. A. B. Burbank is president and Robert E. Carmichael is secretary of the corporation.

Ohio for Wilson.

Chairman E. L. Travis, of the Corporation Commission, just back from Toledo and St. Louis, says that he found conditions most auspicious for President Wilson in both Ohio and Missouri. In Toledo he was in touch with some of the foremost men in public activities and the opinion generally expressed was that Ohio will give Wilson a substantial majority. In St. Louis he came in contact, he says, with numbers of men who are most capable of judging of the real situation in Missouri and he found the consensus of opinion to be that Wilson will win easily in that state. Conditions the country over are swinging with wonderful force, Mr. Travis says, to President Wilson and his election seems assured.

HUNDREDS WILL GATHER AT ATKINSON ON NEXT FRIDAY

Congressman Hood and Hon. R. R. Williams to Speak at Rally.

(Burgaw Chronicle.)

A great Democratic rally is to be held at Atkinson on next Friday, October 27th, when Hon. R. R. Williams, a splendid campaigner of Asheville, and Congressman George E. Hood, will deliver addresses to what promises to be a record-breaking crowd. The record of the Democratic party will be discussed thoroughly, and the progressive measures of Wilson Democracy will be explained. State issues will also be gone over; Linney and Butler will be answered fully.

Wilson Day will be observed throughout Pender county on Saturday, October 28th.

On that date, the great President will send a personal message to the American people which will be read in every village and community throughout the country.

CORN SHOW ENDORSED BY SEVERAL EDITORS

Appreciative Comments From the Surrounding Counties.

Railroads Are Rendering Valuable Assistance in Giving Wide Publicity to Enterprise—Educational Prizes Offered.

The timely and appreciative comments from surrounding counties in regard to the Wilmington Corn Show furnishes abundant evidence of the interest of Eastern North Carolina in the success of this undertaking and is extremely gratifying to the local committees, who are putting forth every effort to have the fair some up to the effort to have the fair come up to the purpose to increase it fully 50 per cent in both size and importance.

The Bladen Journal, of Clarkton, says editorially this week: "Wilmington is making elaborate preparations for the big Corn Show. Our show, if you please, for while at Wilmington, it belongs to a dozen eastern counties, and last year Bladen sat at the head of the table."

The Sampson Democrat, of Clinton, remarks editorially: "The Wilmington Corn Show which has come to be an annual event of much importance and interest to the people of this section of the State, will be held this year on November 7th., 8th, 9th and 10th. The officials of this show are making an extensive advertising campaign with a view to interesting a great many people in it. They promise that it will be larger and much better than ever before in its history. Very low rates have been announced on all the railroads leading into Wilmington during the fair."

The editor of the Mt. Olive Tribune, of Mt. Olive, remarks in a letter, "I know the excellency of every feature of your fair, and it will be a special pleasure for me to do, or say, anything I can to induce the people of this section to attend it."

Comments of similar note are contained in a number of letters received by the committee and in the publications of other counties in the territory.

The efforts of the railroads this year to do everything possible to acquaint the people with the Wilmington fair, with a display of unusual confidence in the proposition, has been of material moment. The general passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line mailed out from his office this week a large amount of advertising material to all the stations in the territory and in addition to this has inserted advertising notices in 18 newspapers. The Seaboard Air Line is likewise co-operating to the fullest.

The Educational committee of the Corn Show is bringing to the attention of boys and girls in the schools the very attractive prizes that are offered this year and there is every reason to believe that this exhibit will be a real feature of the fair. Any girl or boy, who is a pupil in the schools, may compete for individual prizes and any school in the city of counties may compete for the prizes offered to the schools. The object is to have every school enter the prize contest. To compete for these prizes it is necessary for the work to have been done since June 1915. It will be noted that the exhibits include art work, fancy work, penmanship, map drawing, culinary work, collections of geological, mineralogical, zoological and botanical specimens, as well as plain and fancy sewing, by hand or machine. The prize list for this feature is as follows:

Largest and best exhibit of any school, $10; second best exhibit by any school, $7.50; third best exhibit by any school, $5.00; fourth best exhibit by any school, $2.50.

Best display of mechanical work by pupil, $1.00.

Best original device for household, $1.00.

Best original device for kitchen, $1.00

Best specimen of penmanship by any boy or girl under 14 years of age, 50c.

Best map of North Carolina drawn by a youth under 16 years, a pupil of any public school, $1.00.

Best County Map of any county in the Corn Show district, drawn by a youth under 16, a pupil of any public school in that county, 50 cents.

MEDICAL MEETING IN ATLANTA TO BE MOST IMPORTANT ONE

Many Noted Specialists from American Universities Will Attend.

On November 13th to 16th inclusive, Atlanta will be a Mecca for the medical profession of all the Southern states. Included among the visitors will be distinguished clinicians from throughout America. Personally conducted clinics by such men as Dr. Lewellys Barker, professor of medicine of Johns Hopkins University; Dr. J. M. T. Finney, associate profesaor of surgery of Johns Hopkins; Dr. Geo. Dock, professor of medicine of Washington University, St. Louis; Dr. Rudolph Matas, professor of surgery of Tulane University, New Orleans; the Mayos, of Rochester, Minn., and others equally as prominent will make the meeting of the Southern Medical Association in Atlanta not only unique but the most attractive, from a scientific standpoint, ever held in America.

The programme committee, departing from the usual custom of arranging a programme of scientific papers alone, has succeeded in bringing together at one meeting the most distinguished physicians and surgeons of this country, who will be seen in action in the various Atlanta hospitals with the material and facilities just as they find them.

BOY BREAKS ARM IN COLLISION WITH CITY TROLLEY CAR.

Attempts to Dodge Automobile and is Thrown in Front of Approaching Car

The 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spillman, 804 Grace street, suffered a broken arm when he was thrown in front of a southbound Front street trolley car, between Dock and Market streets, shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The boy was riding along Front street on a bicycle, and in attempting to dodge an automobile, ran his wheel against the rail of the northbound car tracks and was hurled against an approaching southbound car. He was taken in an automobile and rushed to the hospital, where the injured member was treated, after which he was removed to his home.

SECURE NOTED GOLF EXPERT

Cape Fear Country Club Has Employed Isaac Mackie, a Famous Professional, for Winter Season

The general public, as well as those interested in the ancient game of golf, will be interested in the announcement made yesterday that the Cape Fear Country Club has secured the services of Isaac Mackie, the famous golf professional, for the approaching winter season. He will arrive here about December 1st and will remain until March 15th.

Mr. Mackie ranks among the very foremost professional players in this country. For several years he was employed by the Fox Hills Golf Club, of Staten Island, N. Y., one of the leading and most active golf clubs in the East.

Uuon the organization of the Lynchburg Country Club, Mr. Mackie was placed in charge but subsequently resigned to go with the Canoe Brook Golf Club, at Summit, N. J., whose golf committee has very kindly released him for the winter months to take service with the Cape Fear Country Club.

He will begin his season at Wilmington on December 1st and will remain until March 15th, or later, if weather conditions justify his longer stay in the South. A consignment of golf clubs and supplies from Mr. Mackie will shortly be placed on sale by Superintendent Walker at the club house.

The older members of the club recall most pleasantly the season of 1912 when Mr. Mackie made a professional record of the course, playing 18 holes in 70. As a large number of the members will doubtless wish to receive instruction, it is urged that they notify the secretary, Mr. R. C. James, who will place the names of the applicants for lessons before Mr. Mackie upon his arrival, and appointments will be made with such members in the order of their application.

IN HONOR OF MR. FUTRELLE.

Manager of Mission Pharmacy Entertained at Banquet at Elks' Temple.

Mr. W. Leon Futrelle, the genial manager of the Mission Pharmacy, was the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet at the Elks' Temple last evening. The banquet was tendered Mr. Futrelle by a party of his friends as an appreciation of his friendship and in recognition of his 'tenth (and then some) birthday. Mr. Owen D. Holmes acted as toastmaster, acquitting himself admirably in this connection. The luncheon was served by Mr. H. A. Webber, the popular manager of the Elks' Club, which is a sufficient guarantee that this feature was all that could be desired. The affair was thoroughly enjoyed and all expressed the wish that Mr. Futrelle would pass many more miles before he comes anywhere near the "end of the road."

Among those present, in addition to Mr. Futrelle, the guest of honor, and Mr. Holmes, the toastmaster, were Messrs. Gregory Davis, Lawrence Everett, Percy Vaughn, George Honnet, Adrain Elvington, Henry Gerdes, Bruce Poisson, William L. Bellamy, Frederick Robinson, Wiley Whitehead, Norwood Huske, Louis Stein, Charles Lord, Jessie Weeks, Harry Hayden and Dr. Harry Honnet.

Second week—Messrs. R. T. Walker, A. H. Robbins, T. C. Dickinson, C. A. Ulmer, E. M. Flowers, W. H. Johnson, H. W. Strickland, G. L. Huband, George E. Benson, C. N. Brewer, Edward F. Noe, E. F. Lucius, Stephen Jewett, W. R. Taylor, W. F. Penny, W. B. Thompson, J. L. Gorman, O. O. Watts, A. C. Craft, C. H. Moser, E. M. Blackwood, John W. Robinson, Oliver Carter.

"THE LILAC DOMINO," NEWEST COMIC OPERA HERE OCT. 28

Andreas Dippel, Grand Opera Impresario, at Academy Next Saturday.

"The Lilac Domino," a splendid three act musical comedy, which filled a year's engagement at the 44th Street Theatre in New York City, and which has been touring the principal cities of the South since the opening of the present season, will be presented by Andreas Dippel the grand opera impresario, at the Academy of Music in Wilmington next Saturday, with matinee and evening performances.

Starting out of New York with the opening of the theatrical season, the play with its large caste of 65 members, it has been produced in Richmond, Norfolk, Greensboro, Charlotte and Atlanta; and all these cities has been given most favorable commendation by critics.

PROGRAMME FOR FALL CONVOCATION MEETING

To be Held at St. Paul's Church at Clinton in November.

Convention Will be in Session for Three Days—Discussion of Missions Will Have a Prominent Place—Speakers.

The discussion of missions will have a prominent place on the programme of the fall meeting of the Convocation of Wilmington which will be held in St. Paul's Episcopal church at Clinton, November 15, 16 and 17. The Clinton church and the people of that progressive town are planning to have a splendid meeting.

Rev. E. deF. Heald, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Wilmington, is dean of the Convocation and Rev. W. R. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, this city, is secretary and treasurer. In addition to the rectors attending the meeting there will be about 50 lay delegates, each parish and mission in the Convocation being represented. The Woman's Auxiliary and Parochial societies which will meet in conjunction with the Convocation are represented by the women.

The clerical members of the Convocation in addiiton to the officers are: Rev. Archer Boogher, Fayetteville; Rev. W. E. Cox, Wilmington; Rev. J. H. Griffith, Kinston; Rev. Geo. Frank Hill, Wilmington; Rev. B. F. Huske, New Bern; Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton, Wilmington; Rev. J. S. Moody, Fayetteville; Rev. T. P. Noe, archdeacon, and Rev. W. R. Noe, Wilmington; Rev. J. M. Robeson, Goldsboro; Rev. E. Wooten, Wilmington.

The programme for the meeting, which was announced yesterday, is as follows:

Tuesday, November 14.

8 P. M.—Opening session; Devotional service, Rev. C. H. Jordan, Williamston, N. C.

Wednesday, November 15.

7:30 A. M.—Celebration of the Holy Communion.

3:00 P. M.—Business meeting.

3:00 P. M.—Mission Study class, Junior Auxiliary.

8:00 P. M.—Evening prayer and sermon; preacher, Rt. Rev. T. C. Darst, D. D.

RELIGIOUS ART GALLERY IN A METHODIST CHURCH.

The Pastor is Brother of Well Known Wilmington Business Men.

Local readers of the Literary Digest will be interested in learning that Rev. Dr. G. Gilbert Stansell, a brother of Mr. W. H. Stansell, the popular and efficient manager of the Postal Telegraph Company in this city, is pastor of Hennepin Avenue Methodist church in Minneapolis, Minn., dedicated within the past few weeks, which has a collection of rare and beautiful religious pictures in the auditorium and Sunday school room.

This collection of 34 pictures was presented to the church by one of its wealthy members, Mr. Thomas B. Walker, and is considered of so much importance that the Literary Digest devotes several columns to giving a description of the paintings and gives photographic reproduction of three of the paintings in this week's issue.

The collection embraces such well known artists as Tiepolo, Guercino and Tintoretto, of the Italian school, several Netherlandish painters and early Americans, as Benjamin West and Washington Allston.

Mr. Stansell's brother has been associate pastor of the church for the past three years. It is also of interest to note that another brother, Rev. Robt. B. Stansell, was recently called to the pastorship of Trinity Methodist church in St. Paul, Minn., which is only a short distance from Minneapolis.

WILL MEET THE VISITORS.

Committee on Entertainment Appointed by Wrightsboro Church.

The Wrightsboro Baptist church has appointed a committee on entertainment composed of Mars. M. Horne, Mrs. W. D. Rhodes, Mrs. J. A. Cox and Messrs. R. L. Moore and Raymond Rogers to arrange for the comfort of the visitors at the union meetings to be held there next Saturday and Sunday. Members of the committee or of the church will meet those coming on trains both at Wrightsboro and at Wilmington next Saturday.

An interesting and helpful programme has been prepared for the meetings which will continue through two days and will include sermons and addresses by many of the pastors of the Wilmington Association. Mr. George E. Leftwich, moderator of the association, will preside.

LORD BRYCE REPORTS ARMENIAN ATROCITIES

Former Ambassador Asks Aid for the Massacre Survivors.

In Cable From London He Emphasizes the Urgent Need—Story of Two Red Cross Nurses—Mass of Evidence.

New York, Oct. 21.—The following cablegram from Lord Bryce has just been received by the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief:

"All the civilized nations able to assist the Armenians today should know that the need is still extremely urgent. Several hundred thousand exiles who survived the horrors of deportation are now perishing of exposure and starvation in the Arabian desert. Latest reports of neutral eye-witnesses describe terrible conditions. Sick people are throwing themselves into graves, begging grave diggers to bury them; women are going mad and eating grass and carrion; parents are putting children out of their misery, digging their own graves and awaiting death. The future of the Armenian nation depends on saving the refugees in Russia, but this requires world-wide assistance for feeding, clothing, housing and repatriation. A book telling the whole story is just appearing here with a fuller statement by me. I feel sure American generosity will again respond to the call of humanity."

Advance information of the monumental report which is soon to be published by Lord Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States, on his investigation of Turkish atrocities in Armenia, has just been forwarded to this paper by the editor of the New York Times. It forms a record of horror, callous cruelty, and fiendish massacre far more revolting than Lord Bryce's report on the alleged atrocities in Belgium, which shocked the world a short time ago. The policy pursued by the Turks since the outbreak of the European war amounts to an attempt to exterminte an entire nation and is, says Lord Bryce, without precedent in the history of the world.

The atrocities have been so terrible that President Wilson has set aside October 21 and 22 as days on which contributions are to be taken up for the victims.

So huge is the mass of evidence collected that it will fill a volume of nearly 700 pages, to be published in England under the authority of the British government. To obtain his data Lord Bryce sent letters broadcast, addressing everybody who could throw light on Armenian conditions. He turned especially to the United States, knowing well that American missionary organizations have long maintained close relations with Armenia. And it is to Americans, the eminent Englishman acknowledges, that he is most deeply indebted for the material on which his ghastly report is based.

Especially valuable as evidence are a number of documents contributed by Germans, which, as Germany and Turkey are allies, are above suspicion of having been colored by anti-Turkish prejudice.

The bulk of the evidence is from eye-witnesses. Naturally, the names of many of those giving it have been suppressed. Names of localities also are often omitted. But the identity of the persons giving information, as well as the localities to which they refer, are known to Lord Bryce and others.

In the volume are included a correspondence between Lord Bryce and Viscount Grey, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, and letters regarding the book from eminent men who have perused its advance sheets. Among them are Moorfield Storey, ex-president of the American Bar Association, who tells Lord Bryce: "In my opinion the evidence which you print is as reliable as that upon which rests our belief in many of the universally admitted facts of history, and I think it establishes beyond any reasonable doubt the deliberate purpose of the Turkish authorities practically to exterminate the Armenians."

A Terrible Mass of Evidence.

"It is a terrible mass of evidence," writes Viscount Grey to Lord Bryce, "but I feel that it ought to be published and widely studied by all who have the broad interests of humanity at heart. It will be valuable not only for the immediate information of public opinion as to the conduct of the Turkish government toward this defenseless people ,but also as a mine of information for historians of the future."

The volume contains 180 documents, some replete with horrors too revolting for transcription here.

Lord Bryce states in the preface to his work:

In the summer of 1915 accounts, few and scanty at first, but increasing in volume later, began to find their way out of Asiatic Turkey as to the events that were happening there. These accounts described what seemed to be an effort to exterminate a whole nation, without distinction of age or sex, whose misfortune it was to be the subjects of a government devoid of scruples and of pity, and the policy they disclosed was one without precedent even in the blood-stained annals of the East.

Barbarities have been committed everywhere, and travelers find nothing but thousands of Armenian corpses all along the roads in many provinces. A Moslem traveler, on his way from Malatia to Sivas, a nine hours' journey, passed nothing but corpses of men and women. All the male Armenians of Malatia had been taken there and massacred; the women and children have all been converted to Islam. No Armenian can travel in these parts, for every Moslem, and especially the brigands and gendarmes, considers it his duty to kill them at sight.

In certain towns the Aremenians who had been consigned to oblivion in the prisons have been hanged in batches. During the last month alone, several dozen Armenians have been hanged in Kaisaria. In many places the Armenian population, to save their lives, have tried to become Mahammedans, but this time such overtures have not been readily accepted, as they were at the time of the other great massacres. At Sivas the would-be converts to Islam were offered the following terms: They must hand over all children under 12 years of age to the government, which would undertake to place them in orphanages, and they must consent, for their own part, to leave their homes and settle wherever the government directed.

Story of Two Red Cross Nurses.

One of the most terrible of all the tales of horrow collected by Lord Bryce, was supplied by two Danish Red Cross nurses. At Erzindjan, the Armenian population of the city was notified that they were to be deported a dncompelled to sell their property at ridiculously low prices. A convoy of these wretched creatures, including numerous women and children, were driven from the city toward Harpout, and soon stories were brought back by survivors of the wholesale butchery of the Armenians by their Turkish guards. Later the two Danish nurses learned of this from some of the very soldiers themselves who had participated in it, and they narrate it in these words:

The butchery had taken four hours. The women threw themselves on their knees; they had thrown their children into the Euphrates, and so on. "It was horrible," said a nice-looking young soldier; "I could not fire, I only pretended." For that matter, we have often heard Turks express their disapproval and their pity. The soldiers told us that there were ox-carts all ready to carry the corpses to the river and remove every trace of the massacre.

The next day there was a regular battle through the cornfields. (The corn was then standing, and many Armenions had hidden in it.)

From that time on, convoys of exiles were continually arrivink, all with no doubt about their fate, after the unanimous testimony which we have received from many different quarters. Later, our Greek driver told us that the victims had their hands tied behind their backs, and were thrown down from the cliffs into the river. This method was employed when the numbers were too great to dispose of them in any other fashion. It was also easier work for the murderers.

The horrible stories narrated above are but a small percentage of those that pack the 700 pages of the volume containing the fruits of Lord Bryce's investigations; but they will serve to give a good idea of the whole appalling compilation.

N. C. NEWSPAPER MEN TO MEET AT CHAPEL HILL

State "Newspaper Institute" to be Addressed by Taft.

Don Seitz and Talcott Williams Also to Address the Gathering Early in December—Subject for Debate Announced.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 21.—The first winter State Newspaper Institute in North Carolina will be held at the University December 7, 8 and 9. The purpose of this institute is to bring together the newspaper men of the State for the study of newspaper problems and for the working out of plans looking to improvement in their special field. Similar institutes have been successfully held in many of the states, and especially has much been accomplished in these meetings in Kansas, Missouri, Wisconsin, Texas, Indiana and other states of the Middle West.

The University is inviting the newspaper men to the institute and will entertain them while here. A worth-while programme is being worked out by the local committee in co-operation with the executive committee of the State Press Association, under the leadership of E. E. Britton, of the News and Observer. Several men prominent in the newspaper field will be on hand to deliver addresses on practical topics. Among these will be Don C. Seitz, business manager of the New York World, and Talcott Williams, formerly editor of the Philadelphia Press, but now, head of the Pulitzer School of Journalism, New York. Ex-President William H. Taft will also deliver an address on the opening programme.

The following query has been chosen for the Carolina-George Washington annual debate, which will this year be held in Washington, D. C., on December 18: "Resolved, That Congress should pass a law requiring compulsory arbitration of all controversies arising between the employers and employes of railroads engaged in interstate commerce, constitutionality waived." Carolina will defend the affirmative side of this question. The preliminaries for choosing the debaters will be held at an early date.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Earl Harris, is rapidly getting its plans under way. The picked chorus is now meeting five times a week for rehearsals. The voices this year are declared to be upusually good, while the mandolin club seems to be the best in years. The orchestra has been much strengthened, especially by the addition of L. Lashmit, of Winston-Salem, who seems to be a violinist of distinction. Those who made the chorus are: First tenors, Pace, Martin, Daniel, Howell, Travis; second tenors, Lipfert, Green, Lashmit, Travis, Harris, Wimberly; first bassos, Lindsay, Stephenson, Chapman, Dalton, Rondthaler, Parker; second bassos, Poag, Prince, Spaugh, Brinson and Fisher.

HOW TO SUCCEED

"Business Before Pleasuree," Says Chas. M. Schwab.

In an article called "Succeeding With What You Have" in the November American Maguzine, Charles M. Schwab says:

"I have always felt that the surest way to qualify for the job just ahead is to work a little harder than anyone else on the job one is holding down. One of the most successful men I have known never carried a watch until he began to earn ten thousand dollars a year. Before that he had managed with a nickel alarm clock in his bedroom, which he never forgot to wind. Young men may enjoy dropping their work at five or six o'clock and slipping into a dress suit for an evening of pleasure; but the habit has certain drawbacks. I happen to know several able-bodied gentlemen who got it so completely that now they are spenling all their time, days as well as evenings, in dress suits, serving food in fashionable restaurants to men who did not get the dress suit habit until somewhat later in life.

"Recently we have heard much about investments. To my mind, the best investment a young man starting out in business can possibly make is to give all his time, all his energies, to work—just plain, hard worw. After a man's position is assured, he can indulge in pleasure if he wishes. He will have lost nothing by waiting—and gained much. He will have made money enough really to afford to spend some, and he will know that he has done his duty by himself and by the world."

If you believe in "America First" contribute to Wilson's re-election. Dollars are needed.

HOWARD BERRY WINS THE GAME FOR PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—Howard Beery, penthalon champion, who recently returned from three months with the National Guard on the border, scored two field goals and made the only touchdown in the game in which Pennsylvania today defeated the strong Penn State college football eleven 13 to 0. During the latter part of the game, Berry, who played at full back, was taken out because of injuries. The game was fought viciously and two players came to blows during the third period but neither was penalized.

HARVARD WINS RAGGED GAME FROM MASSACHUSETTS AGGIES

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 21.—Harvard's football team put up a ragged offensive here today, but managed to win from the Massachusetts Agricultural College 47 to 0. Half Back Casey made three of the University's seven touchdowns, though he received but little help from his interference. Harvard relied mostly on straight football, only one of three attempted forward passes succeeding.

COLUMBUS, THE DISCOVEROR

Address delivered by Rev. Louis Bour, Ph.M., on the occasion of the Columbus celebration at the Knights of Columbus hall, October 12, 1916.

Rev. Fathers, Knights of Columbus, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Throughout this vast and varied world of ours many there are, yea, representatives of every walk of life, who owing to some petty trials or personal sorrow, which at the moment spelled discomfiture and probable failure to some and cherished plans, despair of ever combating the terrible foe that attacks their heart's desire, lose all confidence in self, finally give way to an abject spirit of pessimism adding on emore to the ranks of Failures.

Trials and sorrows will ever be the lot of mortals. The evident decree of the Almighty assures us of this woeful fact. But in the character-man shines that ray of sunshine and hope, that priceless gem of confidence in overcoming the apparent insuperable difficulty. To him the present may loom up in the darkest terms, his ambitions sadly thwarted, in spite of this adverse condition his spirit is not crushed and he plods on silently only to conquer in the end.

What pains and sorrows accompanied the unsuccessful attempts of the young and valiant Genoese sailor as he traveled from court to court beseeching the crowned monarchs of Europe to consider his daring venture on the sea. Heavy of heart and saddened in spirit, he trod time and time again to the high officials to interest them in his cause. Discouraged but not despairing, he continued his entreaties, hoping upon hope that in the end the merits of his project would be comprehended by those capable of financing the expedition. Vain, indeed, were his combined efforts to obtain support from the King of Portugal. Equally unsuccessful of results was his earnest endeavor to enlist the aid of the Spanish dukes. Yes, the selfsame objection met him at every step: "Genoese, your scheme is too novel to induce us to accept it."

The historical details of the noble and grand work of crossing the terrible sea in search of a shorter route to India; the varied and manifold incidents concomitant with the long and tiresome journey to and from America; the petty jealousies that arose; the inhuman treatment that awaited and crowned the glory of this noble character need not be rehearsed here, suffice it to say, it was a venture that baffled the minds of his contemporaries. Let us stop and consider just for a moment the model character of this untiring Genoese.

Was it a self-centered desire for glory and renown that led him on?

Was it to satiate a craving impulse to enrich himself with earthly honors over and above those of his time?

Was it to found a well-filled coffer and later live in peace and plenty that stirred him and prompted him to such a hazardous undertaking?

No, my friends, the heart and mind of this noble sailor and navigator were earnestly and solely bent on furthering the interests of his country and his religion. In no wise did the spirit of personal gain enter into his endeavors. 'Tis true the just will ever meet with opposition and criticism from the hands of those unscrupulous agents who envy the work of others, and Columbus, like many others who went forward to aid a good cause did not escape their false accusations and calumny. In the deepest prevarications his character was assailed and his lot embittered at the court of his benefactors. Columbus was human, no one will deny this, and hence he had his personal faults and failings like the rest of mankind. We are not striving to place him among the "gods" as the gods of old were wont to be placed. Our one desire is to give him his rightful credit and rightful place in the hero world. You may quote history to substantiate your claim that Christopher Columbus failed in certain regards, granted the charge of incompetency to rule, we do not object—Columbus was a first class navigator of the seas and not a ruler; he may have erred in carrying on slavery among the Indians, yet the nobleness of his character as the discoverer of America stands unblemished.

What, I may ask, may be the best and safest method to judge the greatness of our heroes? Shall it be the standard of a lengthy catalogue of valiant and extraordinary deeds left to posterity, shall it be the scrupulous carrying out of his principles? My friends, you will agree with me that the latter is a far superior method than the former.

Christopher Columbus, 'tis true, the pages of history are aglow with the marks of his greatness and tell the story of a venturesome and daring seaman, but this greatness is more pronounced in the nation-wide work of his sons, the Knights of Columbus. In his day the power of the Moors presented one great cause for a constant fear and dread and forced the Christians to wage an endless war to safeguard the country and religion. The very same problem faces the Knights of Columbus today. In their great loyalty and love for God and their country they have burdened themselves with the duty to wage an endless war on the present wave of bigotry that is pervading the whole country.

Throughout the length and breadth of this land of freedom and religious liberty, there exists at present a marked evidence of agitation against the true spirit of liberty. The very ones who boast and herald their work as safeguarding the precious gift of American liberty are the greatest sinners against the very principle. To them the term liberty has a purely personal meaning and may be employed to suit their own whims and fancies. It is to guard and retain the liberty as mentioned in the Constitution of the United States, a liberty that gives equal freedom to all to practice whatever religion their conscience may dictate, and not a liberty to denounce and revile whatever crosses one's path. The work of the Knights of Columbus is one of enlightenment and not attack; charity rules them in their difficult task, their slogan is: Truth and the whole truth. No nobler work could be taken up than the defense of one's country and religion. Who will deny that the one and only endeavor of the Knights is to serve their God and their country most faithfully.

Why, my friends, have the Knights been so loyal in their work? What may have been the governing motive that led them on to such an arduous task of combating that terrible spirit of intolerance that pervades the whole Land of Freedom. My friends, it was and is the true conviction of the inalienable rights that are theirs as good practical Catholics and loyal citizens of this Land of Freedom.

My friends, history is our proof that we are here by right of discovery and also by right of exploration. Glance at the pages of history, study the story of our country and you will readily perceive the Catholics have a perfect right to be here. What religion did the honored discoverer profess? Catholic. Who was it that braved the wilds and the inconveniences of the New World; who was it that went forth to explore our rivers, our woods, and our prairies? The Catholic missionaries, Marquette, Lallemont, Jogues, Brebouef, De Smet and a host of others. Their names will ever brighten the pages of our country as men who sacrificed their very life's blood to civilize and Christionize th enatives.

We are not strangers to the soil. We acquired our rights in braving the onslaughts of the enemy, in going forth to fight for the freedom of our country. The story of Gen. George Washington, camped in the dread or winter at Valley Forge seemingly abandoned by all and in utter despair. My friends, I am going to ask you to tell me from the pages of your history who it was that came to his assistance? Who it was that made the establishment of our country a possibility. Who was it, I ask? From the shores of Catholic France came the Catholic Lafayette to remove the dejection and despair of our Father of Our Country. Again aid was ours in the noble Catholic Count Rochambeau and the Catholic General Kosciusko. The father of the American navy, who was he? John Barry, a Catholic in heart and mind and practice. Scores of others could be mentioned who did not shirk their duty but in their charity and love came to our country's assistance in time of need.

In spite of all this historical data some who hate the truth as something evil will venture to say that Catholics are foreign to the soil. To them I can only say read the very words that fell from the lips of George Washington concerning the valor, the sincerity, the loyalty of the Catholic generals and soldiers.

Religious liberty, my friends, is a Catholic contribution to the United States. The records of our land will testify to the fact that it was the Catholic colony of Maryland that gave to man the right to practice whatever religion his conscience dictated. The noble and grand character, Lord Baltimore, was the Catholic patron of this beloved colony. In the New England states the Protestants were persecuted for their religion (not by the Catholic church, but by their own Protestant element) and it was in this colony, Catholic Maryland, that they were received with all love and friendship—charity awaited them from the hands of the colonists. Remember, and retain this marked charity of Lord Baltimore; to these Protestants he gave all the rights, on the same, the very same basis, as the Catholic colonists—the right of worship, of education, of civic freedom. But lo! What ungratefulness in return for all this love and charity. History tells us that the very first act of the Puritans after they seized the government was to abolish civil liberties for the Catholics.

This challenge which I am about to make was made time and time again and thus far has not been met. If the teaching of the Catholic church is such an abhorrent institution—if her teachings are calculated to destroy civil rights—if the many and varied prevarications about her are true, certainly you ought to be able to point out some one instance of treason on her part. Yet I defy any one to show where the Catholic church is guilty of one act of treason against the civil liberties of the United States.

To combat this terrible wave of prejudice and bigotry that is the work which the Knights of Columbus have taken upon themselves as loyal sons of Christopher Columbus and honest, sincere, upright, loyal citizens of the United States.

ARE YOU "TUBERCULOUS" OR "TUBERCULAR?" WHICH

National Authority Draws Interesting Distinction.

Distinction between the words 'tubercular," "tuberculous" and "tuberculosis" when used as adjectives are pointed out by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a bulletin issued recently.

Of the various words used to designate some phase or other of the tuberculosis movement, says the bulletin the word "tubercular" is most frequently misapplied. The term "tubercular" may be used correctly only to describe conditions resembling tubercles, but not necessarily caused by the tubercle bacillus, the germ of tuberculosis.

Thus, if one says a certain individual is tubercular, he realy indicates that the person has a disease process manifesting itself by tubercles or little lumps, but it is not necessarily tuberculosis. To say that the person has tuberculosis, the adjective "tuberculous" is the correct word. It refers to disease conditions caused by the tubercle bacillus. Thus, when an institution for tuberculosis recently labelled itself as a "tubercular sanatorium," it not only indicated that the sanatorium was sick, but that it was sick with something resembling tuberculosis. The abjective "tubercular" should be used very infrequently.

The word "tuberculosis," the bulletin holds, may be used correctly as an adjective, modifying sanatorium, hospital, nurse, etc. This is in accord with the common usage of such phrases as "typhoid hospital," "smallpox infirmary," etc. "Tuberculosis" may also be used, as it commonly is, as a noun, but the use of "tuberculous" or "tubercular" as nouns without a modifying definite article, 'the," is extremely doubtful.

Since the anti-tuberculosis campaign is developing with such great rapidity, the Natonal Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, is urging all newspapers and other publications to make proper use of the words "tuberculosis," "tuberculous" and "tubercular."

From about every angle that circus folks would be apt to look at her, Mary Conners, the bareback riding queen of the John Robinson Ten Big Shows, is just a little bit different from all the other experts of the sawdust rings.

To begin with, Miss Connors enjoys the exclusiveness of a private car and all the home comforts provided therein by the management of the Robinson Shows. But why not? All great public entertainment artists lean to the exclusiveness thing and certainly the empress of the Robinson Circus arena is not the first to travel in a private Pullman coach. If great celebrities with big salaries desire these privileges and can get them, the American show going public should worry.

"Yes, Miss Conners has her own private car," say the other performers in the Robinson Shows. A few of them have ventured to opine that the Robinson main tent star is "stuck up," as they term her reserve, and there is where the latter are wrong, according to the opinion of those who know Miss Conners very intimately, and who declare her to be one of the very "best fellows" in the whole show. Every great artist is more or less envied and there is probably as much "professional jealousy" under the canvas spread of the Robinson Shows as could be found in any other big tented organization.

The simple fact is that Miss Conners is at the apex of her chosen profession and when the time arrived for the signing of contracts for this season, the management of the Robinson Shows secured her services by just cleverly baiting their managerial hook with a private car clause in her contract. It worked beautifully and other bidding managers with offers of a bigger salary are yet unable to understand why the young lady, generally conceded to be the most beautiful and shapely female in the circus game, attached her signature to a Robinson Show contract.

"Exclusive"? Well, rather. Not only does Miss Conners tour amid the luxuries of a private car, with her especially engaged female chef and maid, but she does the other performers still one better by dressing and "making up" in her luxurious boudoir instead of donning her ring costume in the conventional dressing tent annex on the circus lot.

Miss Conners shares her comfortable traveling Pullman home with Miss Beryl Castello, another bareback performer in the Robinson big tent and a boon companion, and her brother, George Conner, the equestrienne director of the circus, either calls in person for the pair in a limousine just before the grand entree or else sends the car for them. When you can rise far enough toward the top of the circus ladder of fame to be able to travel in the luxury of a private car and be waited on by your own privately engaged servants, and be excused from the early rising necessary to join in the daily street parades as is Miss Conner, life in the 'sawdust ring should be pretty soft.

The John Robinson Shows are scheduled for a day's engagement in Wilmington, November 6th.

Do You Suffer From Diabetes?

Diabetes is invariably the result of impaired nutrition—this resulta in an excess of sugar in the blood and failure of the food to nourish, hence a gradual wasting away while eating well.

Symptoms of the disease are, increased thirst, excess of urine, emaciation and dry skin, often with sweetish odor.

Nothwithstanding the fact that medical science admits of no definite cure for Diabetes, Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy has been used with gratifying results and is worthy of your attention. Following are a few words of interest from a grateful user:

"I have been troubled with Diabetes for 8 years. I heard about Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy and I tried some of it and got myself in good condition and went to work again. One man said he doctored for 2 years and that one bottle of Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy did him more good than all the doctors. I am much pleased and so thankful for your life saving remedy that I cheerfully recommend it to anyone troubled with Diabetes and I hope this will be the cause of helping many sufferers." (Signed) James Platt, Nat'l, Military Home, Dayton, Ohio.

Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy is made from a formula tried and tested and used with remarkable results during the past 40 years. As are name indicates, Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy is absolutely safe as it is made from herbs and other beneficial ingredients.

THEATRICAL

Girls of the sweetly sympathetic type are ideally suited to screen interpretation by dainty little Louise Huff, who was recently seen on the screen in the Famous Players production "Destiny's Toy." Miss Huff is now being presented by the same company in "The Reward of Patience" in which she plays a Quaker girl under the direction of Robert G. Vignola. Miss Huff is the typical Quaker girl type and her beauty, appealing personality and really wonderful histrionic ability add greatly to the effectiveness of the production.

A point of unusual interest in this production is the fact that Lottie Pickford, sister of the celebrated Mary, makes her reappearance on the screen after a long rest. Miss Pickford plays the so-called "heavy" role of the society wife who deserts her husband and child and finally meets a well-deserved fate.

Exceptional efforts were made to get just the proper settings for this picture, the atmosphere of the Quaker village in which the story opens being of the utmost importance in giving the picture charm and especial interest. Those who see "The Reward of Patience" at the Grand tomorrow will realize that the efforts were more than worth while. Particularly charming is the waterfall near which so much of the early part of the action transpires.

American Girls Return

For the coming week the Victoria theatre takes great pleasure in announcing a return engagement of the great American Girl Company, which created such a sensation three weeks ago at the Victoria. Every city in which this company has played is requesting return engagements and the Victoria is lucky to get them back first of all.

The American Girl Company, having been on the road for four years, carries probably the greatest repertoire of musical comedy plays of any company on the road, and for this reason could play indefinitely, presenting new plays every two days. They will present three shows during the coming week which it is said rivals even the three big winners put over on their previous engagement.

Lewis and Root, the famous comedy team, the best ever seen in Wilmington, will be here, the inimitable Raymond Lewis in blackface; Scottie Friedell, that other funmaker of this aggregation will be on hand with a new bunch of stunts. But best of all, those Ziegler girls—Elsie and Lillian, the great hit of the show will be on hand, also Miss Pauline Glennmarr, the famous acrobatic and fancy dancing girl.

For Monday and Tuesday the American Girl Company will present "Ticket 44," a rousing comedy with scenes laid at Atlantic City, and among the big numbers on the bill will be: "I Sent My Wife to the Thousand Isles," by Ray Lewis; "She is the Sunshine of Virginia," by Lillian Ziegler and chorus; "I Can't Stop Loving You," Lillian Ziegler and Scottie Friedell; "They Called It Dixieland," Raymond Lewis, and that great Zig-Zag Quartette in a new bunch of tricks.

The usual courtesy of free admission when accompanied by the holder of a 30c ticket, will be extended to ladies Monday night.

Triangle at Royal.

Tomorrow the Royal presents the greatest Triangle feature in which that dynamic dramatic star, William S. Hart, has ever starred for Triangle "The Primal Lure" a story with a punch that is seldom seen in any photoplay, and never in any but those in which "Bill" Hart takes the lead.

"The Primal Lure" is a story of far-off Alaska. Some one had Hart's account book, and when the girl who loved him tried to slip in and present him, with a gift he mistook her for the thief and threw her into prison. It nearly ruined their happiness and made them lose their lives, but in the end love won. "The Primal Lure" has many such thrilling incidents, including a terrible fight in the water for life. Down under the water they went together, each with a death-like grip on the other's throat and a glittering knife in hand. In a remarkable piece of photographic work you can see the terrible struggle for victory and life that takes place between Hart and the savage Indian at the bottom of the lake. In another scene, the gods demanded a sacrifice and Hart gave himself up to be burned at the stake to appease the fiendish anger of the savages. You can see the fire started and the wicked prancing of the Indians—but God sent rain and the victim was saved.

"The Primal Lure" is a picture every patron of the Royal should see.

"The Girl He Couldn't Buy."

When Sumner Nichols wrote the play which will come here Monday evening, October 30, at the Academy, he dug into the inner experiences of many a shop girl who is working at a small wage and trying to live an honest and upright life, and his heroine, Hope Nelson, typifies what a girl must do and suffer to escape the persecutions of those human parasites who prey on the lives of unprotected girls and pose as men of honesty and prominence.

Hope Nelson is the daughter of a wealthy banker. He is ruined by his partner, David Burnham. Her father dies and Hope is left penniless and nearly friendless. Hers is a hard struggle for existence made harder than ever by Burnham, who makes his appearance this time as a tempter. He dangles what he calls ease before her eyes as a bait and when Hope spurns him, he becomes desperate and threatens to drive her into the street.

And then, at the climatical moment, Joe Maynard, a "cracksman," enters her life through the window of her own desolate room. He is fleeing from the police, and asks her to find him a temporary hiding place. Something about the man compels her to grant his wish and the police are foiled.

Joe tells her of how he had served a prison term for a crime he did not commit, and Hope confides her fears and doubts of Maynard.

From that time on "the shop girl" and "the cracksman" become fast friends, and the man, fearless and brave, promises to protect her, to fight for her, to live for her, to love her in the right way, and to reform for her.

And, of course, everything turns out as it should in the end, but it takes four thrilling acts to tell the story, with situations so tense that hardly has one relaxed from breathlessly watching a grave danger passed when another great one confronts the heroine. Yet through it all there is a thread of delicious humor introduced, that makes each thrill pass off with a laugh at just the proper moment.

Prices will range from 50 cents to $1.00. Tickets will go on sale Friday at 9 a. m. at Elvington's.

"The Lilac Domino."

"The Lilac Domino," the musical success of beauty, fun and fashion, comes to the Academy of Music, matinee and night, on next Saturday, and the name of Andreas Dippel as the producer is a guarantee that the production contains all the approved musical elements and a host of new features to insure its success. The score, which is the most seductively beautiful that has been heard in many a day, the work of Charles Cuvillier ripples, and sways and floats along in a great variety of tempos but always with superlative charm. Twenty wonderful songs carry out a story of love and indiscretion with a cast of talented youthful singers with delightfully fresh and beautiful voices, who are already on the high road to fame. There are girls by the dozens, and they dance every kind of a dance that has any claim to grace and beauty, from the classic interpretations to the very latest society steps. In the first act there is a bal-masque, in the second, a dansant and in the third a carnival, so that the holiday spirit runs riot through the entire three acts. No less than five comedians keep the laughter bubbling over on both sides of the footlights. Art critics and the public in general are talking of the sunset scene over the Mediterranean sea in the second act, which is the work of a world-famous Viennese artist. In it the blue waters ripple and dance in the sunset light which gradually fades into evening and then into night, when the stars peep out one by one and the light of the village appear. Even the color of the water changes with the changing lights of the dying day, just as it does in nature. The changes are brought about by means of an electrical device operated clock-fashion behind the metallic painted scene, but there is no hint of mechanism in the effect produced. The same attention to detail and disregard of expense has characterized every feature of the production. Tickets for both performances will go on sale Thursday at Elvington's Pharmacy.

The Smart Set Co.

Men are so constituted that everybody undertakes what he sees another successful in, whether he has aptitude for it or not. (Goethe).

"Imitation is sincerest kind of flattery." If the foregoing be true, then the "Original Smart Set Co." which comes to the Academy of Music on Tuesday, October 31, is flattered. At present counting there is no less than four Smart Set companies on the road, all of them touring the South and Southwest. If the "Original Smart Set Co." has not already thoroughly established itself in this territory, the very number of imitators would be its greatest recommendation. We are confident that the public will patiently await the arrival of the "Original Smart Set Co." which is headed by the well known colored comedians, Whitney & Tutt, in their new sensational musical comedy entitled, "How Newtown Prepared."

MANLINESS AND WOMANLINESS

Neh. 6:1-13.. Esth. 4:6-16.

Nehemiah was a Jewish patriot, whose genealogy is unknown. His father was named Hachaliah, and he had a brother named Hanani. He is thought to have been a priest in Nehemiah 10. It is more probable that he stands at the head of this list because he is a prince and the acting head of the nation.

While acting as cup-bearer to the king in the palace of Shushan, he was promoted to be governor of the province of Judea. And under great disadvantages he undertook the rebuilding of Jerusalem and the restoration of the wasted section around about. Of course he met hindrance, outside and inside, but he showed great courage in boldly, tactfully meeting all and coming out victor in the great work.

It is very interesting to study the reforms as outlined within the narrow compass of this little book. He was a great organizer and turned to good account every power at his disposal. Ezra, perhaps younger, was of great assistance to Nehemiah.

Manliness.

Nehemiah is a fine type of a manly man. This little glimpse into his life shows him to be manly. He was undertaking a great work under great hardships, yet he conducts himself properly.

A gentleman is not only a gentleman when occasion requires, but is a gentleman at all times. It is always manly to do right. It is manly to guard your temper and your tongue. It is manly to keep your speech clean, and our conscience clear. Some think that to be manly a boy must swear, chew, smoke, gamble and be obscene. These are marks of slavery.

For men in any age of the world have combined in themselves a more rigid adherence to duty, a sterner opposition to wrong, private or public, a more unswerving faith in God, or a purer patriotism than Nehemiah. His character seems almost without a blemish.

He was a statesman, a patriot, a warrior, a writer, a lawmaker, an orator, an architect, a philanthropist, a builder, a ruler and a diplomat. He lived to a ripe old age, but of his death and place of burial no one knows.

Esther was a Jewish girl, of the tribe of Benjamin, born in exile. By her beauty of face and person and her becoming conduct, she was chosen to be queen by King Ahasuerus after he had divorced Vashti. Esther was her Persian name, her Hebrew name being Hadassah. Hadassah means "myrtle," and Esther means "star." Her Jewish origin was unknown to the king at the time of her choice.

Haman, the chief minister of the king, was for some reason jealous of the jews and had especial hate for Mordecai. He planned the ruin of the whole race of the Jews and got the king to sign a decree not knowing what he was signing. When it became known to Mordecai he urged Esther to plan to have the decree nullified. It was a desperate undertaking, but she resolved to do it, and planned more wisely than Haman and won.

Her words in this passage are inspiring, as she expresses her purpose and gives instructions to Mordecai and the rest to fast and pray. She says: "Go gather together all the Jews that are in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night nor day. I also and my maidens will fast likewise; and so will I go unto the king, which is not according to the law; and if I perish, I perish." These are sublime words, and show her great courage. Her plan was successful, and Haman was hanged on the gallows made for Mordecai.

She appears in the Bible as a woman of deep piety, faith, courage, patriotism and caution, combined with resolution; a dutiful daughter to her adopted father, docile and obedient to his counsels, and anxious to share the king's favor with him for the good of her Jewish people. That she was a good wife to the king, her continued influence over him for so long a time leads us to infer. She must have possessed singular grace and charm, since she "obtained favor in the sight of all that looked upon her."

She is an interesting type of the long ago centuries. We must not judge her harshly, but remember the times in which she lived.

Woman has a great place in life to fill. Esther had a great service to do for her people with the king. She did it well, successfully. A woman should strive to be naturally beautiful. She should seek to be unselfish and good. In the last chapter of Proverbs is the finest pen sketch of woman to be found in literature.

What kind of men would our manhood be
If all the men were just like me?

What kind of women would our womanhood be
If all the women were just like me?

"TANK CARS" SMASH GERMAN LINE

By John Anson Ford, in the November Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The sudden appearance of what have been called "tank cars," on the British front the third week in September, added another spectacular feature to modern war methods, which already have been characterized by so many new and deadly devices. These strange cars, which it appears the British have been secretly equipping for weeks, crossed trenches and made their way through shell craters without difficulty. Each is covered with heavy armor, within which are gunners that keep up a heavy fire when the enemy is within range. In fact the new machines proved so effective on the very first day, that the attack which they led enabled the infantry to break through the Germans' third line of defense.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

To Americans it is a matter of special interest that American inventive genius undoubtedly has played a fundamental part in producing these remarkable cars. There is little doubt that they are powerful gasoline tractors of either the caterpillar or the alligator type, which have been covered with armor. Within recent years firms in this country have evolved these masterly machines for large-scale farming, big lumbering projects, and the like. Later they demonstrated their military value in a convincing manner. One manufacturer has shipped 1,000 tractors of the caterpillar type to England within recent months, and reports received by the concern since then have indicated that some of them, at least, were being equipped for actual fighting. Another American concern some time ago prepared complete plans for an armored car of the alligator type, paterned after machines that are extensively used for logging in the western forests, and submitted them to the British authorities. The plans were under consideration for a time and then the matter was dropped. It is the belief of this concern that the features of the car it designed have been appropriated in whole or in part by the British government, and that Great Britain is unfair in claiming the credit for these war monsters.

The distinctive feature of the caterpillar car is that it is supported by a single wheel at the front and two wide endless tracks, or belts, of the caterpillar type near the rear, one on either side. Fastened to the inner side of these tracks are endless rails on which rest small trucks that support the engine. Each broad corrugated track passes around two big cogwheels which cause it to travel forward or backward. These corrugated rear supports in some instances have a bearing surface nearly seven feet long. The alligator car, however, has no forward wheel and travels entirely on two endless corrugated belts, each of which has a bearing surface of 16 feet and can be operated independently of the other.

The astonishing manner in which the British "tank cars" have been able to cross trenches, overturn stone walls, and perform other feats is doubtless made possible by these corrugated tracks, or belts. In the case of the cars of the caterpillar type having tracks with seven feet of bearing surface, it has been possible for them to crawl across practically any gap which was less than 7 feet wide, while the alligator cars, with a bearing surface 10 feet long, can negotiate gaps and overcome obstacles which in some respects are even more difficult. Marked success has attended the use of tractors of the caterpillar type by the United States army on the Mexican border for hauling, etc. One of these machines which carries neither armor nor arms, weighs nearly 14 tons. It has a drawbar pull of 11,000 pounds and is equipped with a 75-h. p. engine.

Keeping Yourself Well

HOW YOU GET SICK

Sometimes you overload your stomach with rich foods. Your life may be an active one, and thus you may care for all you eat. But a few days of inactivity show your system does not call for so much.

You awake in the morning tired. Your body feels heavy; you know you are not up to the mark. Your digestion has not cared for the overload. Part of it remains. It generates gas that inflames the delicate linings. They fail to pour out the digestive fluids and neglect to absorb the life-giving elements. You know something is wrong.

Your body gets weak, and soon opportunity is offered for some severe illnes.

Taken in time, the indigestion would not become serious. First remove the overload; then soothe the sore membranes; then build up the weakened body. It's simple to say, but not too easy to do. You need help.

A tonic that will quicken digestion, help remove waste, soothe the soreness and arouse the system—that's just what you need.

Peruna has an enviable record in this respect. It has aided many thousands in the last century to overcome just these conditions, and thereby prevent serious sickness.

The tablet form is convenient for regular administration.

Manalin Tablets are the ideal laxative and liver tonic. They have no unpleasant effects and form no habits. 10c and 25c.

COTTON CONTINUES UPWARD

General List Makes Net Advance of 10 to 17 Points, With the Spot Quotation at 18.50.

New York, Oct. 21.—Early irregularity was followed by a sharp advance in the cotton market today with January selling up from 18.28 to 18.50 and closing at 18.48. The general list closed very steady at a net advance of 10 to 17 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of two to nine points in response to general low temperatures, but soon eased off under liquidation. After selling off to 18.32 for December and 18.46 for March, or about six to eight points net lower, the market turned steadier. Later buying became more active on rumors that private returns indicated a ginning of 7,450,000 bales to October 18 and pointed to a total crop of 11,400,000 bales excluding linters, and there was covering of shorts for over the week end. December sold up to 18.52 and March 18.65 or about 12 to 19 points net higher, and the close was within a point or two of the best.

COTTON GOODS MARKETS.

Prices Make Higher Levels—Large Domestic and Foreign Demand.

New York, Oct. 21.—Cotton goods markets were stronger and prices went to still higher levels this week. The demand for gray goods, sheetings, drills, prints, napped fabrics, and other cloths, has been large from home and foreign buyers.

Staple prints, which were advanced from 7 1-4 to 8 1-2c, the new price to become effective Monday, were withdrawn from sale because of the large orders tendered, and the higher movement in cotton. Wide sheetings went up 2 1-2c a yard. Bleached goods were advanced 1-2c a yard. Some lines of bed spreads were priced on a basis from 10 to 12 1-2c higher. The jobbers have been buying goods actively and are short of several lines of merchandise for November delivery.

Large advance orders continue to come in from the retail trade. Many unsolicited foreign orders are being tendered, and in many instances they cannot be taken care or because of the prompt deliveries sought. Fine and fancy goods mills have been offered a great deal of business for early delivery next year and most of it was declined because of the critical conditions and very high prices asked for long staple cotton. Wage advances are asked for by New England operatives, after two advances already granted this year. Scarcity of operatives continues very general in all textile manufacturing centers.

Prices current on staple cotton goods are as follows: Print cloths, 28 inch 64x64s, 5 3-4c; 64x60s, 5 1-2c; 38 1-2 inch 64x64s, 8c; brown sheetings, Southern standards 11 3-4c; denims 2.20 indigos, 19 1-2c; ticklings, 8 ounce, 17 1-2c; standard prints 8 1-2c; staple ginghams 8 1-2c; dress ginghams 11 1-2c.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Reduction in Private Ginning Estimates Causes Advance.

New Orleans, Oct. 21.—A reduction in private ginning estimates stimulated cotton prices here today, after a slump in the early trading. A fairly good tone was preserved throughout the session and the close was very steady at a net gain of seven to 13 points.

Opening prices were five to nine points up on the cold weather, but realizing quickly sent active months nine to 12 points under yesterday's close.

A private forecast of 7,500,000 to 7,-600,000 bales ginned to October 17, accompanied with a crop estimate of 11,-400,000 bales, not including linters, made its appearance and the market soon firmed up. Highest levels reached late in the session when the more active months were seven to 14 points over yesterday's quotations. October 17.66; December 17.87; January 17.99; March 18.23; May 18.41; July 18.52.

Spot cotton steady six points off. Sales on the spot 642; to arrive 150; middling 17.69

ANOTHER RISE IN WHEAT

Market Finished Strong at the Highest Closing Quotations for the Present Season.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Although at times unsettled today, wheat finished strong at the highest closing figures this season. A sharp advance in quotations at Buenos Ayres caused anxiety among shorts here, and it was evident that foreigners were picking up wheat on all setbacks. Gains amounted to 1 to 1 3-4 net, with December closing at 1.70 1-2 to 1.70 3-4, and May at 1.70 1-2 to 1.70 7-8. Corn showed a rise of 3-8 to 2 3-8, and oats of 3-8 to 1-2c. The outcome for provisions was unchanged to 50c higher.

Grains and provisions closed:

Wheat—December 1.70 1-2; May 1.70 1-2

New Record Made by General Motors. Sugar Shares Also Go Upward. Gain Made by Other Issues.

New York, Oct. 21.—Enormous trading in United States Steel was again the foremost feature of the week-end session, that stock advancing a point to 120 3-8 and coming within 1-4 of a point of its record. A new record was made by General Motors, which rose 26 points to 825, and the new maximums were scored by sugar shares, Cuba Cane rising a fraction to 69 7-8, American Beet, 1 1-2 to 101 1-2, and Cuban American 5 1-2 to 226 1-2, with a 12 point advance for South Porto Rico to 220, that quotation, however, being far below its high level.

Central Leather also broke into new ground, advancing 7 points to 89, and Utah Copper, on its gain of 3 3-4, duplicated its record with substantial improvement in other metals.

These advances were partly offset by pressure against investment rails, irregularity in shipping shares and petroleums and moderate reversals in more obscure specialities. Low priced rails were in further demand. The bank statement was encouraging, actual loans decreasing by almost $42,-000,000 with a cash gain of about $29,-000,000 and an increase in reserves of over $30,000,000, bringing the excess reserves up to about $100,00,000.

Bonds were reactionary, in consequence of further offerings of international issues. Total sales, par value, $2,640,000. United States bonds unchanged on call during the week.

HAIR GRAY? THEN APPLY Q-BAN

It Darkens Gray Hair Evenly

If your hair is gray, streaked with gray, prematurely or just turning gray, or if your hair is dry, harsh, thin or falling, simply shampoo hair and scalp a few times with Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. Soon every strand of hair (whether gray or not) becomes evenly dark, soft, flossy, fluffy, full of life and health, full and heavy and fascinating, and entire head of hair is so beautifully and evenly darkened no one could suspect you had applied Q-Ban. It is absolutely harmless and no dye, but Q-Ban acts on roots, restoring color glands. Sold on a money-back guarantee, 50c for a big bottle at Green's Drug Store, Wilmington, N. C. Out of-town folks supplied by mail.

CONSTIPATED BILIOUS, RUN-DOWN ?

Wash Out the Bile With a Wine-glassful of Tollo Water and Feel Fine in Half an Hour.

Our present mode of living makes bad livers. The bile tubes become choked and force bile into the system, causing gas, heartburn, coated tongue, constipation, dizziness, nervousness, headache and stomach trouble.

A third of a tumblerful of TOLLO WATER in a glass of plain water before breakfast relieves your constipation in 30 minutes. The natural properties of this water stimulate the liver to greater activity without the weakening effects produced by strong drugs.

Get a 15-cent bottle and take a little for a few days. It really works wonders. TOLLO WATER is bottled at Dawson Springs, Kentucky, but it is sold by druggists everywhere. Sold by D. A. Elvington, and other druggist.

INSTEAD OF SCREAMING SHE USES TWO PISTOLS

Young Goldsboro Woman Chases Burglar Clear Away.

Miss Alice Warrick, Seeing Man Attempting to Enter Her Room, Goes After Him in a Vigorous Fashion.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 21.—There was considerable excitement in the northern part of the city last night when Miss Alice Warrick, a pretty and popular young white woman of that neighborhood, opened fire with a revolver upon a white man who was attempting to enter her bedroom, in which the young woman displayed considerable nerve by chasing the would-be intruder through the back yard of her home to an adjoining home to the left, firing at the fleeing man as he ran and emptied the last shot in the chamber of her pistol at the supposed burglar as he leaped over a high fence.

At this juncture the girl's mother, who had been attracted by the pistol shots, arrived at her daughter's side with another pistol in her hands which the young woman quickly secured and shot at the man twice more as he was again making his way over another fence leading to a back street in the rear of her home.

By this time an officer had arrived upon the scene, but too late to apprehend the burglar who, if hit by any of the bullets, had nevertheless managed to travel.

Miss Warrick had disrobed and was on the point of retiring for the night when she heard a noise at the window of her room, and flashing on the lights she was just in time to see the window slowly rising. Instead of crying out the young woman quietly made her way to a dresser nearby where lay a revolver and without a word fired point blank through the window and snatching up a robe nearby made her way to the rear of her home and again opened fire on whom she claims was a white man, who was in his shirt sleeves and wore no hat.

Cuts Tenant's Eye Out.

Mr. Willis Brogden, 70 years of age, and a prominent farmer of Wayne county, residing six miles south of Goldsboro, was bound over to November term of Superior Court yesterday afternoon under a justified bond of $500, when he faced a charge before Justice of the Peace J. R. Hatch of assaulting his tenant, Mr. Walter Goff, and cutting out his eye with a knife. The affair occurred several days ago and at first it was thought the injured man would die, but he is now able to be out again.

Arthur N. Sager, formerly district attorney of St. Louis, successor to Joseph Folk, and now an attorney in New York, and C. R. Pugh, Republican candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, will address the public on the political issues in this city Wednesday night, October 25th.

Friends quarterly meeting will be held at Oakland, Friends church, on Friday, October 27, at 11 A. M., Saturday, 28, 10:30 and 2 P. M.; Sunday, 29, at 11 A. M. Several prominent speakers will be present and the public are cordially invited.

OPEN SEASON FOR QUAIL AND SQUIRRELS IS NEAR.

Dates of Legal Hunting Seasons Vary in Different Adjoining Counties.

The open season for the shooting of bob-whites or quail and squirrels will begin on November 15th and lasts until February 15th, in New Hanover county. In this county deer may be shot from September 1st until January 1st. The open season for doves is the same as that for squirrels and quail in this county. The open season in this county for wild turkey is from November 1 to March 1.

The open season for bob-white, wild turkey and doves in Brunswick county is from November 1 to March 1. The open season for deer in the same county is from October 1 to January 1.

The season for shooting bob-white in Columbus and Cumberland counties opens on November 1 and extends until April and March 1, respectively.

The hunting of deer with a gun in the woods in the night time by firelight, or while swimming streams, is specifically prohibited, even during the open season.

The hunting or shooting of any wild fowl or game bird between sunset and daylight or on Sunday is prohibited at all seasons. Any person convicted of any of the foregoing offenses shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be required to pay a fine.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT CHURCH.

Special Programme to be Carried Out at Southside Baptist Today.

Today will be observed as Young People's Day at the Southside Baptist church and special services for the young people of the church will be held at both morning and evening, at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M., respectively.

The morning service will be conducted by Mr. C. Walton Johnson, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., while the evening service will be conducted by Mr. Odis B. Hinnant, city boys' work secretary.

During the past year this church has paid special attention to its work with young people. There are several organizations among the young people and children of the church. Among these organizations, perhaps the two most active are the Woodcraft boys and girls and the Boy Scouts.

A large number of younger people have been interested in the work of the church and about 50 have united with the church during the past six months. The church, however, feels that a much larger part can be played in the work of the church by these young folks, and much more can be done by the church in behalf of its young people.

RESPECTED NEGRO DIES.

J. Festus Dry Passed Away Friday. Funeral Today.

J. Festus Dry, one of the most respected colored citizens of Wilmington, died Friday. He conducted a dyeing and pressing club on North Second street. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Chestnut street Presbyterian church.

AN ELK THIRTY YEARS

Mr. L. Stein, of this City, Charter Member Richmond No. 45.

Although still young in years as well as in spirit, Mr. L. Stein, of this city, ranks as one of the oldest Elks in this part of the country, a fact which was brought home to him yesterday upon receipt of a letter from Secretary W. R. Harwood, Jr., of Richmond Lodge No. 45, whom he recently casually met at the reunion in Baltimoe. Mr. Harwood inquired of Mr. Stein at the reunion to which lodge he belonged and was surprised to know that he was originally of Richmond Lodge. The acquaintance ripened between the two men and when Mr. Harwood went home from Baltimore, he look up the data and mailed it to Mr. Stein yesterday.

Mr. Stein joined Richmond No. 45 as a charter member May 9th, 1886, and is one of the few remaining of that charter list, a copy of which was forwarded by Mr. Harwood. The lodge was instituted by Exalted Ruler A. B. Carter, of Baltimore, on the date named, 32 members having been initiated at the time. Upon his removal to Wilmington later, Mr. Stein was largely instrumental in the organization of Wilmington Lodge No. 532 and has been an honored trustee of the Wilmington lodge since that time. He is one of the most enthusiastic of the "younger", members of the local lodge and without a doubt will see still another 30 years of Elk life. At least his hosts of friends here wish no less for him.

STEAMER A. P. HURT RESUMES RIVER TRIPS AFTER RUNS

Low Water in Cape Fear Caused Vessel to be Laid up Temporarily.

The steamer A. P. Hurt, which had been laid up for several weeks on account of the low water in the Cape Fear, arrived in Wilmington last night from Fayetteville with a cargo of cotton. The heavy rains of the past week filled up the river, so that vessels can navigate the stream without difficult. The boat was overhauled during the temporary suspension of service on the river.

The river steamer Felton arrived here early this morning from Tarheel with a cargo. This vessel is of a lighter draught than the Hurt and was able to continue its service in spite of the low water although on delayed schedules.

WAS SHOT THREE TIMES AS HE WAS DINING AT A HOTEL

Vienna, via Berlin to London, Oct. 21.—The Austrian Premier Count Steurgkh, who was assassinated, while at dinner today by Ludwig Adler, a publisher, was shot three times. Count Stuergkh was dining at a hotel when the publisher attacked him. Three shots were fired, all of which took effect, the premier dying instantly.
